Mr. Irving W. Eastman,
Editor of the Kaleidoscope,
Middlebury, Vermont.

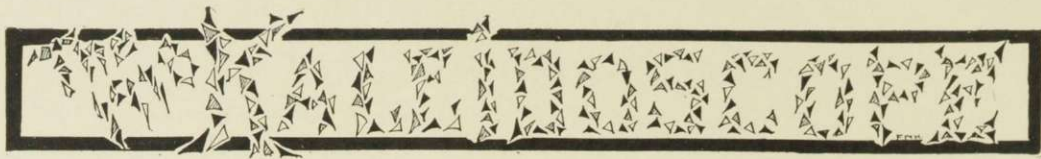

My dear Mr. Eastman:-

It is very kind of you to desire to associate my name with the college annual of the class of 1918 and I beg to express my appreciation to you and to your associates on the editorial board.

(X) I was born in the village of Middlebury and my ancestors on both sides of the family resided in Middlebury and Cornwall. Where the Middlebury students now play baseball and football was once my grandfather's farm. I have always retained a kindly interest in my early Vermont surroundings and therefore have been gratified with the prosperity of Middlebury College. It seems to me that the college has the opportunity of becoming one of the most beautiful colleges in the country. Nature has done much for the institution in its environment among the Green Mountains and in the Champlain valley. The buildings, both old and new, are pleasing in form and exceptionally well located on the extensive campus. I trust the college may continue to grow and prosper, and I wish you all success in your publication and to all members of your class abundant success and happiness in after life.

Very truly yours,

Wm. H. Porter

Foreword

OR you who hear the term for the first time — “KALEIDOSCOPE” is made up of three Greek words. A study of these is necessary to get the full significance of the title. “KALOS — beautiful or pleasing + EIDOS — form + SCOPOS — aim.” For what is the aim or purpose of our year book if it is not to present in pleasing form a review of the year at Middlebury? And then turning to the dictionary again we learn:—“Kaleidoscope:—An instrument which contains loose fragments of colored glass, etc., and reflecting surfaces, so arranged that changes of position exhibit its contents in an endless variety of beautiful colors and symmetrical forms.” Yes, our endeavor has been to make this KALEIDOSCOPE more than ever “an instrument containing the loose fragments of colored glass,” symbolized by the faces, events, statistics, jokes, and so on, herein contained. And we have tried to so arrange the reflecting surfaces, or pages, that the contents of the work may be “exhibited in an endless variety of beautiful colors.” As the bits of colored glass form the kaleidoscope itself, — so may this work furnish the threads by which fond recollections of the college year may ever remain fresh in your memory. In the heading of each page bits of glass from a broken kaleidoscope as they are revolved, are seen to be forming themselves into the title of their namesake book. Hence the fitness of the title “THE KALEIDOSCOPE.”

MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE
MIDDLEBURY VERMONT

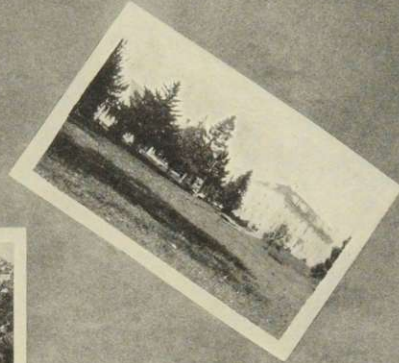

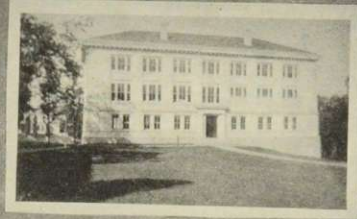

TO THE CLASS OF 1918

I am glad for an opportunity to express my appreciation of the loyalty of the class of 1918 to the college, a loyalty of which I am always conscious when I have any appeal to make to any group of Middlebury students. I know that you believe in the college and are jealous of her honor, that you stand at all times ready to co-operate to the best of your ability in every endeavor to advance the college welfare. If at any time your acts are not guided by wisdom, I know I can rely upon your willingness to accept suggestion and upon your instant response to any counsel which is based upon frank statement of fact and supported by sound reason. It is a great privilege to work for college men and women of such genuine purpose to do their full part in bringing about improvement and to raise the standards of the institution.

Your years in Middlebury have witnessed the greatest material expansion our college has ever known. The addition of Hepburn Hall and the Mead Memorial Chapel and the magnificent bequest of the late Colonel Joseph Battell have increased our facilities to a greater extent than has been effected in any similar period in the one hundred and seventeen years of the life of the college. I trust that these substantial gains in the institution with which you have been connected will impart to your individual lives the spirit of ambition and achievement, that in your own life work and in the cultivation of the spirit that is within you there may be a constant and confident striving for better things; for large attainment in the things of the spirit not less than in outward success, and in all your striving you will have the earnest wishes, and in every success you will add to the joy, of him whom I trust you have come to feel is your loyal friend.

In Memoriam

PROF. WETHERELL — AS A MEMBER OF THE FACULTY KNEW HIM

It was a rare spirit to whose memory this page has been devoted. I count it a peculiar privilege that for fifteen years — rich while they were being lived and richer in recollection — his life was intimately associated with mine; he was first my pupil, later my colleague, and always and increasingly my friend. And now, when all too soon for us that gracious life is ended, how vividly one recalls him as a teacher and as a man.

He was a teacher of exceptional power. His stern devotion to accuracy in research and statement, and his enthusiasm in finding and imparting truth, were the devotion and the enthusiasm of the scholar, and I doubt not that for years to come those qualities that made him in his class-room the leader that he was will mould the characters and enrich the lives of the students whom he taught. As a man he moved among us with a gentle strength. The spirit of helpfulness, quiet and unobtrusive, was instinctive in him, and many will miss — myself not least — his kindly, sympathetic service. Equally instinctive was the cleanness of his soul; it was easier to believe in goodness for having known him, and that, perhaps, is the supreme test.

And whether as teacher or as man, the secret of his nature was the same. Always and everywhere he sought truth at its sources: Gettysburg was more real to him and to his pupils for his visit to the field; he broadened his outlook upon life through loving study of the poets and the seers. Surely we need not wholly mourn that so clear a mind, so pure a heart, has passed to the Source of sources in the beauty of its prime.

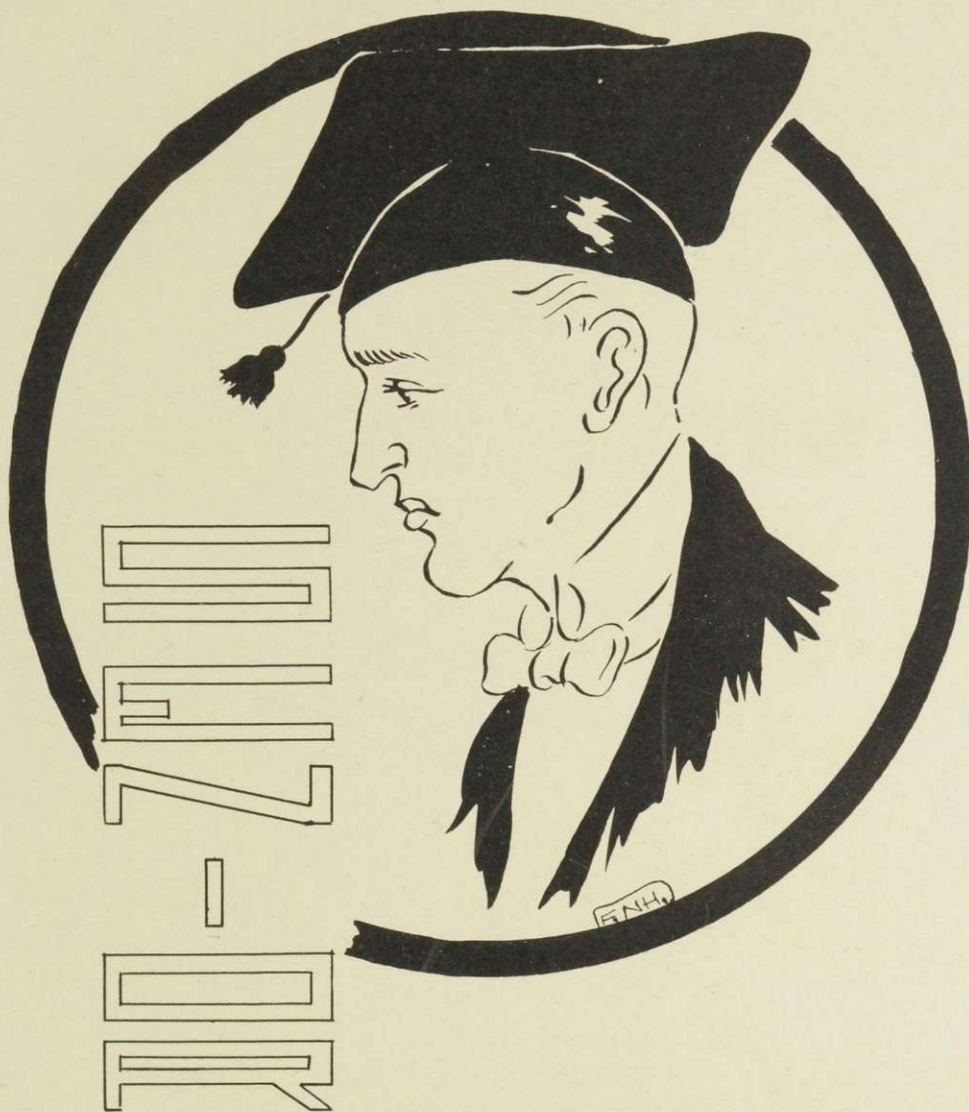

CHARLES B. WRIGHT.

PROFESSOR WETHERELL — AS THE STUDENTS KNEW HIM

Through a gradual recognition of what he was, we have come to know Prof. Wetherell as a man of deep convictions and noble purposes. Everything in his life was subordinated to the attainment of the ideal of perfect manhood, which was constantly before him. We believe that it was this very unity of purpose and conviction that constituted the essence of his power, for his utterances were the product of a sincere soul which could not but speak that which he hesitatingly affirmed, but were facts of his own vital experience which he had appropriated to himself through painstaking effort. His pupils had faith in what he said because he did, and the charity of his thoughts and the force of his logic, compelled the conviction which his sincerity prompted. His sympathy with the individual problems of the student, his large-mindedness, and humble simplicity, won the confidence and admiration of his pupils. These qualities combined to produce in him a man of the most noble type, and one eminently fitted to mould the ideals and standards of the younger generation of American citizens.

Class History

The happy days spent at dear old Midd. speed by with relentless haste. But yesterday we were raw recruits: today we are veterans in the service of our Alma Mater, and soon we are to be placed on the retired list. Having passed thru the successive stages from "pea green freshmen" to grave old senior, 1917 now stands before those yawning portals thru which we must pass to become atoms lost in the wide, wide world.

In our freshman year we first distinguished ourselves by pluck and energy, with which we won the hat scrap from 1916. On the football field we showed as much tact and skill, and for four consecutive years carried away the laurels in interclass track.

We have lived many changes in the various departments of our college as the scholastic standards and environment changed under the direction of an intelligent faculty and we have ever striven to put down obstacles and to deliver vigor and force from our ranks in order to uphold their desired precedents. It was during our freshman year that we felt the infusion of a new blood and responded to the rays coming from a tower in stature guiding safely our bark into the harbor, in order to land and take our respective parts in the play of life.

The class of 1917 leaves the unsullied surroundings of new old Midd. and will strive to aid the remote prosperity which is bound to tread the halls of our Alma Mater.

Class History

Again as the days grew shorter and the cooling autumn breezes scattered the fair-hued foliage, the class of 1918 returned for its third year at Middlebury. Once more the campus rang with the shouts of familiar voices, and the green mountains re-echoed the cheers of "eighteen."

But how different the scene from that of our freshman autumn! Now it is as staid Juniors that we greet you, as loyal comrades that congregate together, to carry to a successful finish these short remaining years.

Our first two years were not crowned with athletic victories, for in these we were much handicapped by our small numbers, and we also thought it better policy to teach the opposing classes the art of politeness, than to crown ourselves at the beginning with such laurels. However, in our many important struggles with the faculty, we have proven ourselves worthy at least, of staying by our Alma Mater to the end.

While we have settled down to a life of peace and quiet, we still delight in recalling the many escapades of the past. Beside the many events which are known to all other classes, as well as to our own, there are those of the class-room. While plodding through the trying days of our Freshman year, a few of our numbers fell by the wayside, but we are proud to say we enter now upon the "jolliest year of our lives" and march onward with full ranks.

LESTER NELSON ALLYN

"Al", "Les"

New Haven, Connecticut

New Haven High School; Class Baseball (1, 2); Class Football (1, 2); Varsity Football Squad (1, 2, 3); Class Hockey (2, 3), Captain (2); Sophomore Rules Committee (2); KALEIDOSCOPE Board (3); Junior Prom Committee (3); Sages.

"Les" came to us from the wilds of the Nutmeg State, little suspecting what days of clamor and excitement were in store for him. His first calamity came on the football field, in the shape of a broken leg, and Prof. Perkins too did his part to intimidate our friend. He fairly bubbles over with new ideas, inspirations, and enthusiasms; and the more we see of him, the more we are impressed with his show of wisdom. He is a good scout for all he doesn't make a big noise about it and, as he says: "Nothing succeeds like success." We might add in connection with the last sentence that "Les" neither needs succor nor is he one. By the way, did you ever see a woodchuck chuckle? If not, watch "Les" when he is in good humor. Here's to "Les," the chap that doesn't say much, likes good old New England cider, hardly ever gives a co-ed as much as a glance, likes Math., never got a condition, and is above all a true son of old Middlebury.

"An honest man, close buttoned to the chin, Broad-cloth without and a warm heart within."

WALTER EDWARD ANDERSON, AΣΦ

"Andy"

Fitchburg, Massachusetts

Fitchburg High School; Class Football (1, 2); Varsity Football (3); Class Treasurer (1); Second Parker Prize (1); Glee Club (2, 3); Chairman Junior Prom Committee (3); Junior Play Cast; Sages; Delta Tau.

"Andy" is another of our gridiron stars. We first remember him in connection with "Doc" Lord, and recall many scenes in South Starr, in which apples flew, tables and chairs were raised—and the green grass grew all around, all around. You only have to take a bird's-eye view of this fellow to guess his ancestry. "Andy" is known as a good, steady chap, and certainly worked hard to win his "M" in football. As a speaker he is "par excellence." So here's to the "King," the chairman of our big social event, the Junior Prom, a good roofer and a grand sport. "Use your head as well as your hands" and perhaps you can do as well as "Andy."

"O father, I see a handsome man, O, pray, who may it be?"

*'Tis only a love-lorn Swede,
Beware of such as he."*

CHARLES EFFINGHAM BARTLETT, ΔKE

"Ham", "Bart"

Newport, Vermont

Dean Academy; Varsity Baseball (1, 2); Class Baseball (1, 2), Captain (1); Class Football (2); Class Basketball (1, 2); Class Hockey (3), Captain (3); Sophomore Rules Committee (2).

Yes, here's "Ham," the second Ty Cobb, who also has aspirations for Phi Beta Kappa, though he is careful not to let them be known. In spite of his lofty aspirations, he is not a fellow who would allow his studies to interfere with his college education. "Ham" has an extremely noticeable gait. Just watch him coming down the walk, one hand in his pocket, a broad grin on, and oh—his stride—we won't forget it! At almost any time of day we may see "Ham" strolling down Main Street linked arm in arm with his side partner, "Crip." He says, "Two's company, three's a reception." His father said that he'd have college bred and cured "Ham" at the end of four years. "Bart" is probably the best known as a center fielder, having held this position on the varsity nine for the past two seasons. We have to hand it to him for his smoothness and let it go at that—we know no more!

"A minister, but a man."—Pope.

WILLIAM RUSSELL BREWSTER, ΑΣΦ

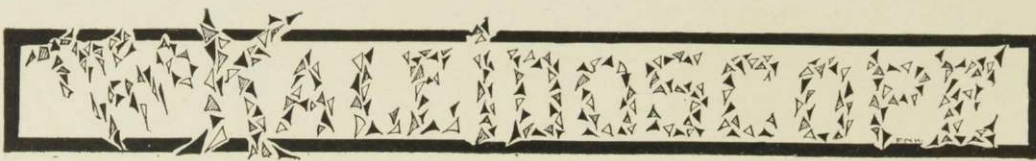

"Bill", "Pat"

Windsor, Vermont

Kimball Union Academy; Class Football (1), Manager (1); Varsity Football Squad (1, 3); Class Track (1, 2, 3); Varsity Track (1, 2); College Discus Record (1, 2); Interfraternity Council (3); Delta Tau.

Another long Vermonter but one who can deliver the goods and who believes in making hay while the sun shines. "Bill" goes to college on the side. His business is located at Battell Block where he is general utility man and co-partner with "Lord." "Bill's" happy thought is: "Keep the fires a-burn-ing, till I get my little B. S." He is there with the stuff in throwing the discus, and had to break the college record a couple times, but still is not satisfied. "Bill" is a staunch believer in fraternity spirit and is not a doubting Thomas. After having been blown about considerably by a gale, a rather windy one at that, "Bill" went over to Dartmouth for a semester his Sophomore year, but he decided that it was not to be compared with Middlebury so he returned to the fold.

*"A heaver of wood, a heaver of coal,
A sweeper, a slinger, a janitor bold,
Late to bed, and early to rise,
A task for a man, even one of his size."*
—Browning.

RICHARD HARRISON BUFFUM, ΔΥ

"Dick", "Buff"

Winchester, New Hampshire

Winchester High School; President Christian Service Club (2); Varsity Debating Team (2); Campus Board (2); Editor Campus (3); Doshisha Committee (2, 3); Apollo Club (3).

"My name's Buffum, what's yours?" said "Frosh Dick." "Dick" certainly was green when he came to Middlebury but now he is quite ripe. His is a keen, logical mind; reasoning is his forte. Bless the boy; he's always right. This lank, svelte person may some day fill the shoes of Charles Baker Wright, and again he may appear in the black robe of a stern and upright judge—who can tell? "Dick," on the outside hardly ever notices the co-eds but just mention the fair sex in his room and he will open his heart to you in no time. "Buff" is proud of his record and he has a right to be—everyone can't please the faculty and the co-eds at the same time. You are a hero, "Buff," too busy to be gruff and too kind to be rude. We admire you, "Dick," for your store of knowledge, for your principles which you carry out to the letter, for the way you are putting the Campus on its feet, for your conscientious work on the debating team, and, last but not least, for your college spirit and loyalty.

"I'd rather be right than be President."

JAMES CARDELL, ΚΔΡ

"Jim"

Bristol, Vermont

Bristol High School; Class Treasurer (3); Class Hockey Manager (3); Bones; Sages.

"Jim," a true Bristolite, a great lover of Latin, and a follower after Math, came to college with high resolves to become a painstaking student. He has the happy faculty of getting up at 8:15 to make 8:00 classes, and he usually makes them. His one failing is his loud coarse manner which continually leads his child-like roommate into indescribably unsuitable and embarrassing situations. No wonder said roommate is continually blushing for this sad-faced child from Bristol. It takes "Jim" to shine in Economics and we are expecting a remarkable production when he writes his thesis for his M. A. We also understand that he is some musician!

*"And every now and then we know
That 'Jim' ships out, but where does he go?
He leaves and returns entirely alone
And the intermediate station is Burlington.
Nevertheless we'll bet jitney, diamond, or pearl,
That if we investigate, we will find—that it's a girl."*

MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

HENRY HAMBLIN CHAPMAN, XΨ

"Chap"

Middlebury, Vermont

Middlebury High School; Class Football (1, 2); Varsity Football Squad (1, 2); Class Baseball (1); Fourth Merrill Prize (2); Secretary Christian Service Club (2); Secretary Y. M. C. A. (2); President Y. M. C. A. (3); Junior Prom Committee (3); Campus Reporter (3).

Henry always seems very busy, but never too busy to be congenial, and he often puts himself out to help others who can't mind their business as capably as he. Henry had a caterpillar on his lip this summer but he found it made him cross-eyed watching it grow. We take off our hats to "Chap" as the man with the most grit who ever played on the second football team. He is our true student, Greek and Latin being his favorites. Henry was one of the first to help reorganize the Y. M. C. A. at Middlebury. He likes music also. You should hear him tune up on his violin! Some say that this youth is eternally weighed down by some great and hidden foreboding or potent and impending doom that has sealed forever his marble lips. Perhaps 'twas a jilt from some Pyrrha that made him thus! May you, "Chap," ever be the sincere, painstaking fellow that you are!

"Be true to your word, your work and your friend."
—O'Reilly.

GUY NEWTON CHRISTIAN, AΣΦ

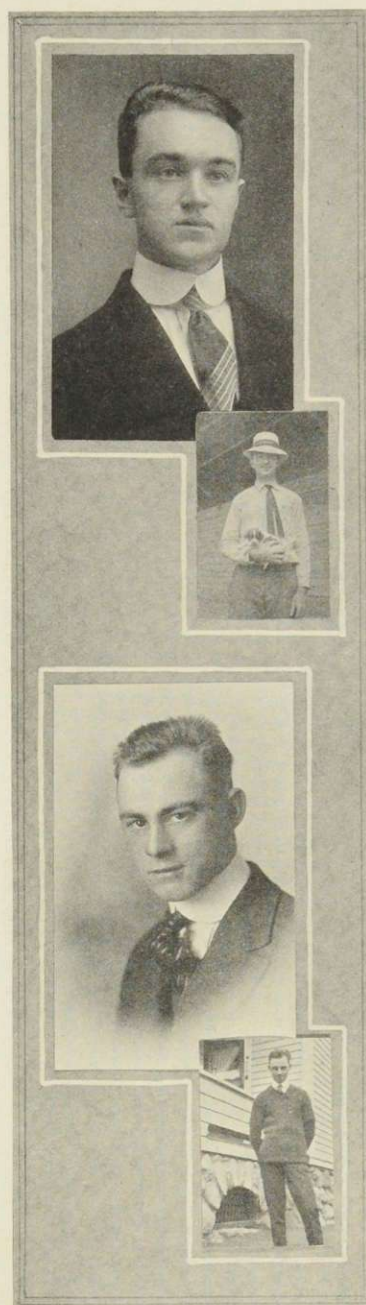

"Chris", "Christy"

Georgetown, Massachusetts

Haverhill High School; Varsity Baseball (2); Varsity Baseball Squad (1); Class Football (2); Class Baseball (1, 2), Captain (2); Class Track (1, 2, 3); Class Basketball (1, 2, 3), Captain (3); Bones.

Here we have him—"The Vesuvius of Middlebury"! Edison in all his pristine glory has never invented such a talking machine. "Chris" is some lad, yea a regular guy(gey)ser, bursting forth perpetually in a spontaneous combustion of words, lots of words, and a few facts. He hails from Haverhill (so he says) and when he arrived at Middlebury, great was the consternation among the fair co-eds. He went out with them all but his popularity soon waned until now—pause a moment, gentle reader, while I let fall a tear—he has been forced to break a new route in which we trust he will meet with better success. In truth, he's quite a sporty youth; but, if he is a sport, he's a good sport.

"Hark, hark, what 'tis I hear,
Creating disturbance to the ear?
I look, I scan, I look again.
'Tis but the howling voice of Christian."

ARTHUR AUGUSTUS COLEMAN, XΨ

"Art", "Gramp"

Barnstable, Massachusetts

Barnstable High School; Manager Class Basketball (3); Assistant Track Manager (3); Class Treasurer (2); Glee Club (3); Bones; Delta Tau; Sages.

"Gramp" went to Clark for a year but decided that he wasn't getting enough out of his subjects so he came up to Middlebury. Having made investigations at Jennie's office at the completion of his first semester in Midd, he cried out, with heroic self-sacrifice, "Away with Phi Beta Kappa. I'm going to be a society man." Whereupon he went to the movies. Oh, yes, "Art's" a good scout. Give him his pipe and a bathrobe and he's as contented as any unsophisticated Mongrel. He says his best friend is his pipe for he knows it has a warm heart. His affinity for the co-eds is remarkable and he is almost sure to propose Miss Dean for some important office at each class meeting. As a Freshman, he roomed at North Starr—but perhaps that is more than he prefers to have told.

*"A lover of ease, an innocent lad,
With many good points and a few that are bad.
'Yea, Grampa, yea, Coleman, from whence do you come?'
'From Barnstable, Mass.' he answers, 'By gum.'
Of woman no lover, no friend of the ball,
But a jolly good fellow, which makes up for all."*

HENRY MABBITT CRIPPEN, JR., ΔKE

"Hooks", "Crip"

Ballston Spa, New York

Troy Conference Academy; Varsity Baseball (1, 2); Class Baseball (1, 2); Class Hockey (3); Class Basketball (1); Delta Tau.

You will recognize "Crip" when you see him by the unmistakable smile on his face and by the cordial greeting which he will give you. As a varsity pitcher he has done fine work for old Midd. He is all right but has a good left. Said left is the most evident article on the baseball field. He always retains his grin whether winning or losing. Even "Simmy" cannot take it away from him, however much he would like to at times. But "Crip" also shines to an equal degree in the classroom and we are wondering whether it is his ambition to return to T. C. A. when he has graduated and teach the other young ministers how to play ball or to buy out Jo Calvi and go into business with "Bart." Henry really isn't afraid of the ladies. No, no—just wise, perhaps! However, watch out, "Crip," for the best of men fall and, when they do, they fall hard.

"So fair a man is seldom seen."

KALEIDOSCOPE

ROScoe EDWIN DAKe, KΔP

"Rocky"

Middle Grove, New York

Ballston Spa High School; Class Basketball (2, 3); Class Track (2); Class Football (2); Varsity Football (3); Associate Editor Campus (2); Business Manager of KALEIDOSCOPE (3); Sages.

Middlebury has never seen his like! Shades of Aristotle, Socrates, Cicero! Hie thee hence, false philosophers; the first and only true interpreter of the universe is in our midst. "Rocky" took his first long trip three years ago, a journey from New York to Middlebury. "Not far," you say? No, but the boy was young and knew not the ways of the world. "But what a change," you remark. Yes, three years have worked their wonders. Incidentally(?) "Rocky" is the business manager of this book and thinks he's on "The Rocky Road to Dublin." We will pass over the fact that he has kidded Prof. Perkins into believing that he is a Math. student. This rugged youth thought little of making his "M" the first season he ever played football. Chemistry has a peculiar attraction for him and we sincerely hope he succeeds in graduating before he has blown us all off the map.

"Ay, every inch a king."

HAROLD FRANKLIN DREW

"Sidney"

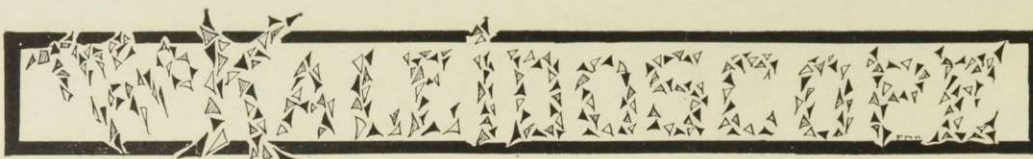

Haverhill, Massachusetts

Haverhill High School; Varsity Track (1); Class Track (1, 2); Class Football (1); Glee Club (1, 2, 3); Sophomore Hop Committee (2); Junior Play Committee (3); Freshman Debating Club.

The self-acclaimed busiest man in college, and he can tell you all about it without a fear that you will not both appreciate, and approve, all the unusual and abnormal qualities which make him such an unsurpassed genius. He was never known to refuse to say something in response to any professor's question. Harold also had his troubles in North Starr but he has bribed us not to divulge them. Now and then he has brought himself to open a book, but he spends most of his time training his melodious voice, or preparing for prize speaking. Above all, especially during Freshman year, did he delight in training for track, more preferably in the spring time, but once in a while on a winter's night. Harold has a mighty good heart which is more than most "hurlers" possess. We all hope that he will become proficient in Math. before his Senior year but, at any rate, he will in Philosophy —so here's to our philosopher!

"What you are speaks so loud I cannot hear what you say."—Lowell.

IRVING WILLARD EASTMAN, XΨ

"Irv", "Ike"

St. Johnsbury, Vermont

St. Johnsbury Academy; Class Basketball (1, 2, 3); Band (1); Class Football (2); Associate Editor Campus (2, 3); Junior Play Cast (3); Editor-in-Chief KALEIDOSCOPE (3); Alchemists; Bones; Sages.

Varied are the constituents that go to make up this man. He has in his makeup two definite characteristics: one, reserve and refinement; the other, a personified vocabulary of speech and cut-ups of diverse nature. He has calmed down since his Freshman year, but who wouldn't with the task of editing the KALEIDOSCOPE. "Ike" enjoys tackling big things, and seeing them through. He was first a loyal son of old North Starr, where with his wife "Gramp" he sallied forth on many a nightly voyage. Judging from present data, we would announce him a good fellow and a man of excellent parts—just what these parts are we'll wait for some future day to disclose.

*"Oh, Muse! oh, Muse! Where can be found
A man like him this wide world round?
A golden Pyrrha has him beguiled!
The Kaleidoscope both frantic and wild!
Between these two, Maid and Book
We think he will make a professional crook."*
—Shakespeare.

ROBERT SAMUEL ENGLISH, KΔP

"Bob"

Charlotte, Vermont

Kimball Union Academy; Class Football (1); Varsity Football Squad (3); Class Track (1, 2); Varsity Track (1); Interfraternity Council (3); Executive Committee Freshman Debating Society (1); Alchemists; Delta Tau.

"Bob" is famous for coming to college now and then a semester, after which he departs for lands unknown. His favorite subject is French, and his chief delight is the repetition of courses in "Robbie's" department. You ask to what class he really belongs? Well, that's a difficult question to answer definitely, and it might result in complications for "Bob" is a popular youth even if he doesn't honor the college with much of his society. He seldom goes down street. We wonder why. He has a brother in Stowe though, whom he sometimes visits. That's about all, except that he is a good-natured, generous guy, and there's no limit to what he will lend, even his union suit they say. Well, cheer up, "Bob"! Phi Beta Kappa men aren't the only ones who make a howling success in life, so there's still a chance for you and we all wish you luck!

*"Oh, Robert, boy! How goes the fight?
Are books, as once, your sole delight?"*

KALEIDOSCOPE

BRITTON ARMSTRONG EVERITT, ΔKE

"Lightning", "Brit", "Ev"

Basking Ridge, New Jersey

Bernardsville High School; Class Track (1, 3); Track Squad (1); Class Football (2); Varsity Football Squad (3); Class Hockey (3); Gym Team (3); Assistant Cheer Leader (2, 3); Sophomore Hop Committee (2); Associate Editor Campus (2); KALEIDOSCOPE Board (3); Junior Play Cast.

"Brit" spent his spare moments Freshman year imitating Princeton cheer leaders for the amusement of the Sophomores, and has at last come to realize his childhood's dream, for he is 1918's representative among the college cheer leaders. We can hear him now—"One long Middlebury yell, fellows, make it good. Are you ready?" "Brit" is also Head Waiter at the Hepburn Refectory and every morning witness the following monologue: "Mr. Everitt, Mr. Everitt, I say Mr. Everitt, how are you feeling this morning? Aren't you feeling well?" No, he is not bashful, it is only his inherent modesty that gives him that appearance. For if he were so, would he have the nerve to palaver before the grandstand, and flap his wings? But, joking aside, girls, which one of you would not leave her happy home for the privilege of gazing deep into the liquid depths of those limpid pools of fire? One at a time please, don't rush! Line forms at the right!

"Could I love less, I would be happier."

WALBRIDGE BIRNEY FULLINGTON, ΔY

"Fully", Wally"

Johnson, Vermont

Johnson High School; Sophomore Rules Committee (2); Interfraternity Council (2, 3); First Merrill Prize (2); Assistant Business Manager Campus (3); KALEIDOSCOPE Board (3); Treasurer Y. M. C. A. (3); Junior Prom Committee (3); Junior Play Cast.

We understand there is a young ladies' normal school located in "Fully's" home town, but since he came to Middlebury, from all reports, the attendance has been very much decreased. He is one of the Hash House trustees, and the boys as they come to him "silently stack their plates like the Arabs, and as silently steal away." "Fully" is another one of our modest, unassuming hard workers, a most earnest lad, a good fellow, and we wish him the success that is sure to be his.

*"A quiet man who offendeth none,
A pleasing student, well begun."*

HENRY MUNSON GARRISON, ΔKE

"Garry"

South Orange, New Jersey

Columbia High School; Class Basketball (1); Varsity Football Squad (2); Varsity Baseball (2); Captain Gym Team (2); Glee Club (1, 2).

"Garry," who came to us as a Sophomore, is the only spit-ball pitcher in the state. The last one of his kind—this garrison uses his arms to advantage (Deep one!) In addition to his well known baseball propensities, for he can pitch anything from alfalfa to a pill, 'tis said he is the fellow who made the "Girl in Every Port" idea famous. He is too bright for polish—it isn't nickel plate—just plain brass. But "Garry" doesn't confine himself to baseball, he is Middlebury's best punter on the football field and an all round good chap.

*"There's neither time nor comparison
To sing all the charms of Garrison.
He's a bear with the lasses,
For his tortoise-shell glasses
Eclipse a good part of his face."*

EARLE VICTOR GOOD, ΑΣΦ

"Tony", "Goodie"

Torrington, Connecticut

St. Johnsbury Academy; Class Football (1, 2); Varsity Football Squad (1); Varsity Football (2, 3); Class Basketball (1, 2, 3), Captain (2); Class Track (1); Class Baseball (1, 2); Sophomore Rules Committee (2); Glee Club (1, 2, 3); Double Quartette (2); Bones.

Yes, this dark, mysterious, romantic-looking fellow is good, otherwise known as "Tony," and indeed no other word in the English language could more appropriately describe this handsome Beau Brummel. As an exponent of the fistic art he early made a foreign conquest, as one Senior can verify. "Tony" made "all Vermont end" this year at football and is also one of '18's mainstays on the basketball floor. He is so impressed with the value of team work that we imagine that to be the secret of his success in some of his other pursuits. They say he captivated more co-eds his Freshman year than anyone else in his class. (Since then he has settled down.) No, he is not a roughneck, although at times his apparel might lead one to think so, and he might like to have us believe it, but we're all wise to him there.

"Wild and wooly and full of fleas."

KENNETH MCKENZIE GORHAM, ΔKE

"Kenny"

Middlebury, Vermont

Middlebury High School; Assistant Football Manager (3); Football Manager; Class Basketball (2); Second Baseball Team (2); Sophomore Rules Committee (2); College Orchestra (2, 3); Mandolin Club (2, 3); Glee Club (2, 3); College Band (2, 3); Manager College Band (2, 3); President Junior Class (3); Interfraternity Council (3); Junior Play Cast.

"Kenny" is a living example of "pep". Alexander the Great had nothing on this fellow. You would hardly believe that this modest looking youth is destined to be one of the future leaders of the world. Already he is one of the busiest men in college. He journeyed to Colgate to receive his initiation into the mysteries of freshman life, but shortly outgrew the place and returned to Middlebury for further development. Aside from the honor of being president of the class of 1918, he is a musical genius, minus the long hair, and an athlete as well. As for oratory, he is a veritable Demosthenes. "Kenny" is deserving of most everything he gets, good or bad, for he is sure to be at the bottom of most everything on the calendar. His Alma Mater is better for having known him.

"The race by vigor not by vaunts is won."

FRANK SERAF GREDLER

"Gred", "Fighting Parson"

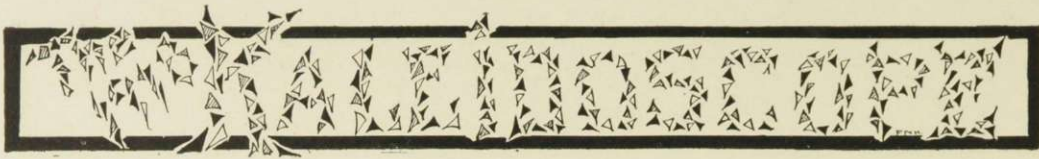

Middlebury, Vermont

Spaulding High School.

Most any balmy spring afternoon, you may see this jolly German perambulating along the campus, with shoulders thrown back, and with the determined air of a young Marcellus. Frank has but two bad habits namely, swearing and swearing. "Gred" evidently doesn't believe in wasting his time, for we see him only at classes, chapel, and, with his friend at the movies regularly twice a week. This is Frank's third year at preaching every Sunday at Shoreham, and we certainly honor him for his devotion. "Gred" delights in an atmosphere of Greek and philosophy and say—Napoleon himself was deathly afraid of a razor. So here's to honest, sincere, hardworking Frank.

"Every inch a man, to say nothing of the feet."

CHANNING HILDRETH GREENE

"Colonel", "Greenie"

North Brookfield, Massachusetts

Williston Seminary; Class Football (2); Hike Committee of Outing Club (3); Delta Tau.

North Brookfield, Mass., sent this specimen to our institution. He wants us to be sure not to say anything that is going to hurt his reputation, so we are going to try to be very careful. As a child of Old North Starr, we remember him for his sleeping propensities. Early one morning when he was putting these qualities to good use, with no little disturbance resulting, some of his brethern treated him from the room above with the good old cold water appliance. Said application tested "Chan's" sleeping qualities as well as his temper, to the breaking point. Ever since, he has been wide awake, plugging day and night. Y. M. C. A. is his long shot, and if ever we hear of an evangelist rivaling Billy Sunday, it will be none other than "Chan" Greene. "Chan" is our class mate with the largest heart, a fund of college spirit, and we wish him luck.

"He views the world from an unusual attitude."

LOUIS GREENE

"Louis"

Weybridge, Vermont

Pentecostal Collegiate Institute; Bangor Theological Seminary.

"Louis" is a most wild and virtuous benedict, as refreshing in the classroom as rain on a hot, dusty, summer day. He's a very valuable asset to the professors, no one napping while Louis is among them. Yes, some say that he is the fellow that put the Saint in St. Louis. He is a new-comer among us, surely not as fresh as some. We have noticed his studious look, and imagine that if physical appearance helps any, he must be a wonder when he steps into the pulpit. Greene shows his class spirit by attending class meetings, and we are glad to add another good man to our 1918 minister list.

*"Too little known to be appreciated;
Too retiring to win renown."*

HOMER BLAKELY HARRIS, KΔP

"Homer"

Middlebury, Vermont

Middlebury High School; Class Track (1, 2, 3.); Captain (2); Varsity Track (1); Sophomore Hop Committee (2); Junior Prom Committee (3); Junior Play Cast.

Harris took part in his Freshman P-rade as a Co-ed, and he was some peach. Ever since our co-eds have been rather jealous, for disguised, he had them all stopped for looks. Homer lives but a little way outside of Middlebury, about a five minutes' walk to the campus, which explains why we do not see him more. It is lucky for the fellows that he is not here with us, for we would stand no chance of ever getting a date, with him around. As it is, there is no great loss without some small gain, and we trust there are no hard feelings.

*"She that loves a rosy cheek,
This gay young Romeo ought to meet,
A rustic youth and country fed,
Aside from this, all has been said."*

EDGAR LAWRENCE LORD, AΣΦ

"Doc", "Dennis"

Dennis, Massachusetts

East Greenwich Academy; Campus Board (1, 2); Sages.

"Doc" our Cape Cod fisherman, came from "Dennis" but sure and that's not his name. He is Prof. Perkin's "idol" and Davison's "dream", and incidentally lord high proprietor of the Battell Block. For one long year we were forced to listen to him extol Massachusetts, Cape Cod in particular. No doubt we would have had to listen three years more, if his attention had not been centered on something else. He has studied the theories of all great mathematicians, both modern and ancient in a vain attempt to solve the one problem in discrimination between "Duty and Doody." And after all his research and labor, frankly admits that when the girl lives on "Court" street what could he do?

*"Oh Heaven and Earth! Oh Stars and Poles!
That College should be of these composed.
But what has often made me wonder,
That God created such a blunder."*

JOHN JOSEPH LYNCH, XΨ

"Jack"

Rutland, Vermont

Rutland High School; Class Football (1, 2); Captain (1); Varsity Football (1, 2, 3); Chairman Sophomore Rules Committee (2); Freshman Class President (1); Vice President Athletic Council (3); Junior Play Cast; Delta Tau.

"Jack" early initiated himself into the hearts of his colleagues by a hasty application of his speed, weight, and football prowess to our rivals, the University of Vermont. He was our first class president, being imported from Rutland, the chief source of freshmen class officers. He was nominated for this office by the Hon. Ralph Beaumont ex'18 whom we recall as quite an orator. Now gather around closer girls, while we discuss this interesting creature. You can see at once that it is a rare specimen, belonging to the Somebody class, erroneously regarded by some as belonging to the specie I-am-no-student. There's a fifty-fifty mixture of football and acting in his make-up. "Rah Jack! Rah Lynch! Rah Rah Jack Lynch!" has been heard to re-echo on many a football field, and with his commanding manner, voice, and figure "Jack" has been a fine leader in all college activities, in which he has participated.

"I came here to study, and my mission I shall fulfill."

CHARLES JULIUS LYON, AΣΦ

"Bunny"

Stamford, New York

Stamford Seminary; Second Merrill Prize (2); Campus Board (3); Treasurer Freshman Debating Society (1); Junior Play Cast.

This "lion" came prancing into Middlebury on all fours but his roar is not startling, nor is his "mane" habit to create consternation. "Bunny" is our little Math, shark, and from the start has led one of the busiest and perhaps the happiest lives of any of us. Follow him a day in sweeping and hunting down books in the library, looking through a microscope for two hours, working calculus, calling up a certain young lady two or three times, spending the evening out, and then finishing the day by writing for the Campus. He is always happy, and will crack a smile and even his voice to greet you. "Bunny" is certainly as smart a youth as 1918 can boast.

"Thou art a scholar, henceforth thy pathway lies among the stars."

DEXTER HORACE MEAD

"Dex", "Magician"

Cornwall, Connecticut

Bacon Academy; Class Football (1); Class Track (1); Class Basketball (2); Class Hockey (3); Glee Club (1); Entertainer (Magician) (2, 3); Junior Play Cast.

"Dex" is our slight-of-hand artist, and spends all his spare time journeying to neighboring towns with his funny apparatus to make people laugh and incidentally gain slight remuneration. Not that we desire to reflect in any way upon the good name and reputation of our exponent of Hindu Mysticism, but we must hasten to inform you that "Dex" is our proverbial minister's son. "Dex" was not a charter member of the Fussers' Club, but maybe he hasn't been an ardent supporter for the past two years! We hear that lately he has become addicted to sweet cider—anything to it, "Dex"? And is he literary? Well, we should say so,—he reports the college news for the Middlebury Register.

"May fortune recover her eyesight and be able to distribute her gifts more wisely and equally."

RAYMOND CORWIN MUDGE, AΣΦ

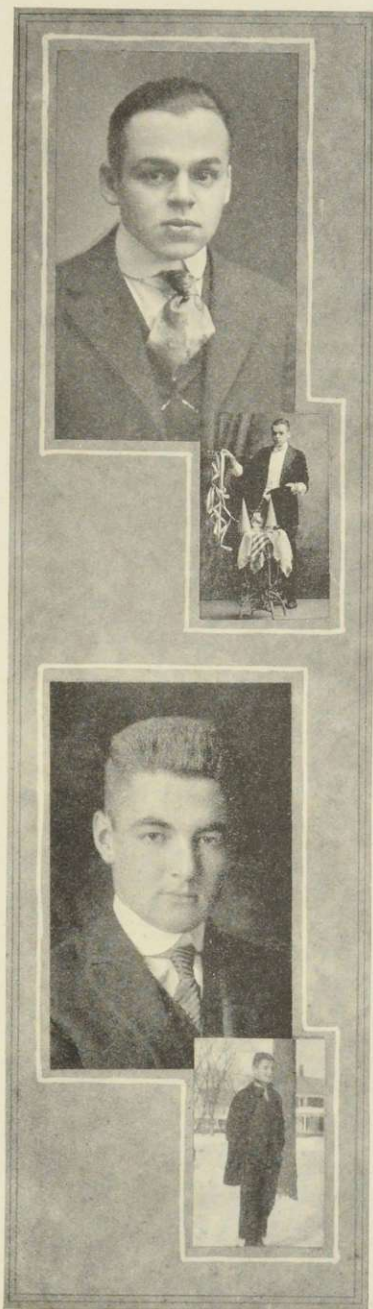

"Ray"

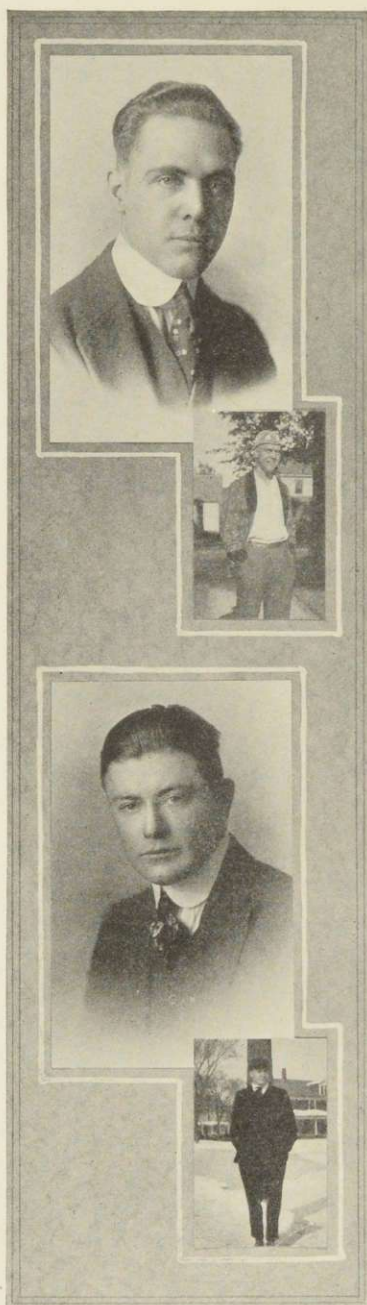

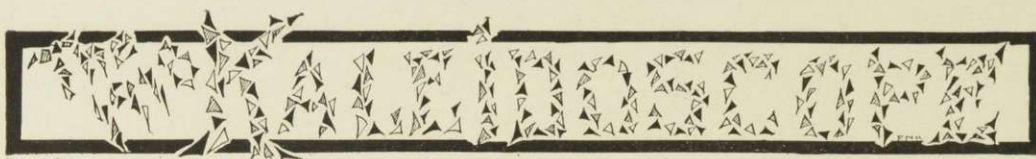

Ludlow, Vermont

Black River Academy; Class Football (1); Varsity Football Squad (1, 2); Class Track (1); KALEIDOSCOPE Board (3); Junior Play Committee (3); Bones; Sages.

"Little Napoleon" is our night watchman. Dark jobs can't please everyone, nor can everyone make a light job of a dark one. "Mudgy" can! He was first well known in Old North Starr circles, where he was always appearing most any time of night, ready to hear or tell a story. We understand that he has made quite a start in the profession of law, or has at least already been before the bench, so you see all his expostulating now and then was not in vain. He's quite a Sherlock Holmes at that, and you never know what he has up his sleeve. May we ever remember him as the good-natured, energetic, black-haired, black-eyed youth that he is.

*"A little unassuming chap,
Was never known to take a nap
In any class; and so,
Although he doesn't study much
He never seems to get in 'Dutch,'
And seldom falls below."*

FORREST GUILFORD MYRICK, XΨ

"Mike"

Bridport, Vermont

Middlebury High School; Class Football (1, 2), Captain (2); Varsity Football (1, 2, 3); Class Baseball (2); Class Basketball (1, 2, 3); Second Team Baseball (1, 2); Class Track (3); Secretary-Treasurer Interfraternity Council (3); Bones.

"Mike" is one of the quiet members of our class who has come across with more real accomplishments than most of our men have. No fuss nor bother; but sober and steady, and pleasant company have made him a great addition to the class and popular too. Yes, girls, this is the fellow you were asking about, the formidable, but good-looking Myrick, and as Prof. Sanford said, "At last an athlete who is at the same time a student." But few realize that Myrick is destined to astound the universe by his works of magic. He is the Chi Psi funny man and supplies them with loaded cigars, doctored chocolates, and funny (?) stories, to say nothing of "bombs, cachoo and itch powder." We can't say that he pays much attention to those on the hill, but then, Bridport is close by and he goes home often, so we can venture a guess that there may be attractions in his home town. "Mike" has no choice of sports, but plays them all well, and wherever the play is thickest, you will be sure to find this husky classmate of ours.

"Tis not a flow of words shows good judgment."

URBAN HENRY PARKER, AΣΦ

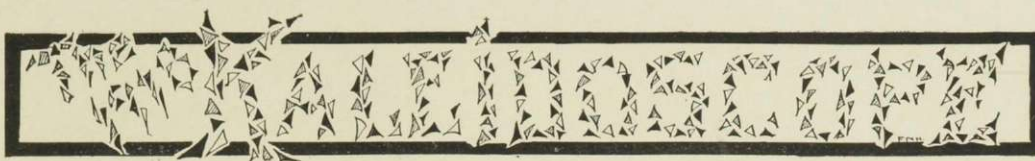

"Beany Jr."

Morrisville, Vermont

People's Academy; Class Basketball (1, 2, 3), Captain (1); Class Football (2); Varsity Football Squad (2, 3); Class Track (2); Varsity Track Squad (2); Class Baseball (2); Varsity Baseball Squad (2); Class President (2); Rules Committee (2); Sophomore Hop Committee (2); Secretary Athletic Board (3); Social Committee Union (3); Bones; Delta Tau.

"Beany" is one of our few athletes with an enviable scholastic standing. As Sophomore President he ably presided over all affairs we had to deal out to the Freshmen, conducting in person the march to the skating pond, after the capture of the three wayward Freshmen in Painter Hall. He is now settled on the athletic bench where he holds down the position of secretary, keeping his arm in shape to pitch in the spring by signing admittance cards to all Varsity contests. He's got a good line,—you should have heard him get away in Horace last year. But really,—Vermont should be proud of such a son, the college of such an undergraduate, and we of such a classmate.

"Young 'Beany' Parker, fairest of the fair,
Friendly to the faculty, hero without care,
Gracefully he roams about
Like a gherkin on a spree.
Remember 'Pliny,' 'Beany,' and let this
A warning be."

DAVID WILLARD REID, XΨ

"Dave", "His Riverence"

Adams, Massachusetts

Troy Conference Academy; First Parker Prize (1); Campus Board (2); Junior Play Cast.

Originality is the theme that "Dave" emphasizes. He is homogeneous and slightly carnivorous, but otherwise very harmless. Would that we had a Boswell to do justice to this sketch of our classmate with the mammoth intellect! His one ambition, while on this mortal earth, is to convert all of his fraternity brothers. With that Johnsonian demeanor and that Websterian vocabulary we have no fear "Dave" (we almost called him my his more familiar name, "Rat") but that you will surpass all records as a heavenly white wing. Alas, alas! Lincoln was wrong, yea, all wrong. He had the temerity to say that it was impossible to fool all the people all the time. The Hon. Abe had not met "Dave" or he would have made no such statement.

*"Behold this jolly Christian
Who had but one single ambition.
I, David Reid, see clearly the need
Of saving lost souls from perdition."*

LESLIE MARTIN SHEDD

"Les"

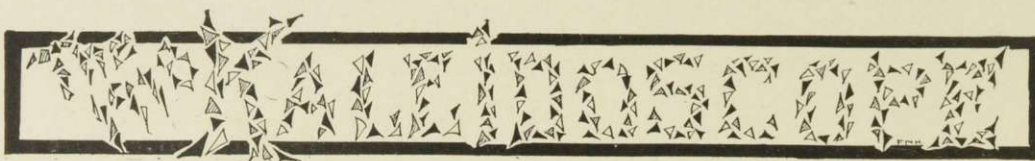

New Braintree, Massachusetts

Hardwick High School; Glee Club (1, 3); Campus Board (2, 3); Secretary Outing Club (3); Freshman Reception Committee.

Here's another of Massachusetts' red-faced cupids. He worked around Pearsons so much his first two years that now he finds it difficult to stay away from that locality. He is 1918's original self-made man and when he gets warmed up and begins to discourse on his favorite subject, "Prohibition," he reminds one of a 1904 Edison Phonograph. He is a shining light in physics and math, and when through college we all know the coin will roll swiftly in his direction. Already he isn't afraid to ask you if you have subscribed for the Campus, or paid that past due dollar. He has both brass and brains, seemingly an irresistible combination.

"Some people are born great, some acquire greatness and others have greatness thrust upon them."

CARROLL ROSS STEARNS, XΨ

"Carroll"

Portland, Oregon

Harvard Military; Class Track (2, 3); Varsity Track Squad (2).

This gentleman is '18's hero from the wild and woolly west. His mother sent him here to Middlebury for safe keeping. How well she accomplished her purpose remains to be seen. On careful thought, he has calmed down a lot since he came to us, and it has not taken him long to become a true son of Middlebury. Carroll is a skillful hunter, and his advent has been very disastrous to the wild game of the vicinity. We are told that Prof. McGilton has to try hard to put him to sleep in the weekly qualitative lectures. After all, one would not suspect that in that gentle mien, a spirit of daring and recklessness reigns supreme.

"You can get a boy out of the country but you can't get the country out of the boy."

WILLIAM THOMAS WATSON

"Wat", "Tom"

Stratford, Connecticut

Bridgeport High School; Reporter for Campus (3).

"Watso" is our classmate of the quiet taste and good disposition who eats mathematics and has a memory like Carlyle. Although you would never suspect it to look at him, he is one of the chosen few who regard the acquisition of a key as a minor and incidental phase of college life. But "Watso" fools them now and then by wending his way up to the hill, for an evening at the movies. Have you heard him tune up his mandolin? "Watso" is very devoted to his roommate "Dick," but why shouldn't he be, so suffice it to say that Watson is a good fellow, and to all intents contented in his chosen sphere of our college world.

*"Unthinking, idle, wild and young,
He laughed, and danced, and talked and sang."*

MARION SMITH WEBB

"Cobb"

Beacon, New York

Beacon High School; Campus Board (2, 3); Class Track (1); Mandolin Club (2); Executive Committee of Freshman Debating Society (1).

Ladies and gentlemen, we present for your approval Mr. Marion Smith Webb. His mother named her darling boy Marion, we hasten to inform you, before you form any false impressions. He constantly reminds us of an owl in more ways than one. He says his best friend is his couch of slumbers and maybe you will believe it when you learn that he sleeps sixteen hours out of every twenty-four. What he does with the other eight we have not been able to learn. In class he looks wise, says little. "Cobb" is perhaps a little hard to get acquainted with but when you get to know him you will find him true blue. We suggest a course in law, "Cobb," so you may be able to get back on time next Fall, and not have to plead ignorance.

"How true it is that silence passeth for wisdom."

GUY EUGENE WHEELOCK

"Guy"

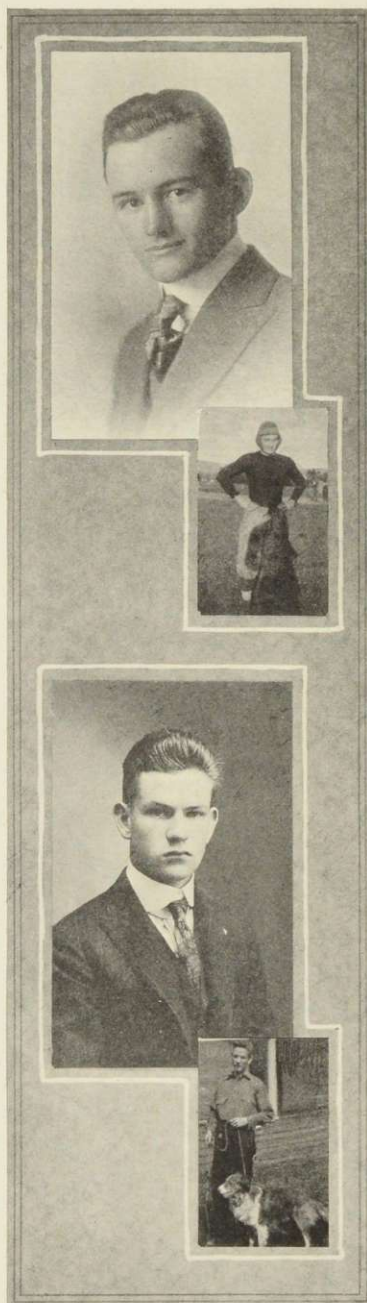

North Troy, Vermont

North Troy High School; Class Baseball (2); Manager Class Basketball (2); College Band (1, 2); College Orchestra (3); Sophomore Rules Committee (2); KALEIDOSCOPE Board (3); Chairman Junior Play Committee (3); Apollo Club (3); Junior Play Cast; Sages; Bones; Delta Tau.

"Guy" our representative from the town (?) of North Troy is our class dramatist, whom we feel will rival the name of Shakespeare, if only the world can be induced to listen to him. But we will pass over this, on account of the many late hours he has spent in helping this book on its way to the press. He is a hard-working chap, going through his lessons, especially Latin, like fire through a hay stack. Guy is another of '18's claimants for the title of Beau Brummell, and a good sport as well. He was so busy his first two years that he didn't have time to fill his pipe, but since he left off writing to the fair one back home, he has been smoking rather than adorning his physiognomy with an empty pipe. We don't know much about his frequent trips to Boston, but anyhow he looks happy when he starts.

"His equal lives not, thank God for that."

FRANK CARL WHITNEY, XΨ

"Whit", "Cap"

Salisbury, Vermont

Middlebury High School; Second Football Team (1, 2); Varsity Football (3); Class Football (1, 2); Junior Play Committee (3); Junior Play Cast; Sages.

Behold the pride of Salisbury! "Whit" believes in getting there every day, and does not have to tell us that it pays. He is quiet, but if you ever need a friend you have but to say the word. Few know the real Whitney, his inner thoughts and the somewhat musty soliloquisms of this mysterious future all-American halfback, until they have the pleasure of sitting beside him at a Tuesday evening special picture at Bentley's.

"I love to be among the lasses."

STANLEY VICTOR WRIGHT, ΔKE

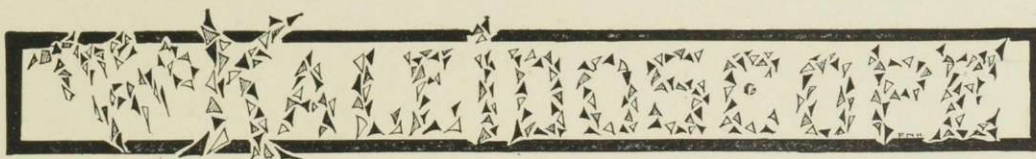

"Stan", "Silas"

Middlebury, Vermont

Middlebury High School; Class Track (1, 2); Manager Class Hockey (2); Assistant Manager Baseball (3); Vice-President Outing Club (3); Chairman College Welfare Board of Union (3); Apollo Club (3); Alchemists; Delta Tau.

"Stan" is bound to be a manager, second only to John McGraw, for he has caustic and nerve enough to manage a team of Indians. He also possesses the greatest line you ever listened to. "Well, boys, ———" "Stan" was always the one to get away in Latin and also has a scientific turn of mind for very often has he kept the quantitative lab. from being deserted. He openly avows that it is his ambition to be a very bad man, and in fact is so steeped in evil and weighed down by bad thoughts that he is fast becoming round-shouldered. It is rumored that he has ambitions to be the original bad man in a five reel scenario, but we fear that the influence of such a picture would be so great that it would never pass the National Board of Censorship. Aside from this he's a mighty decent fellow, what there is of him, and in time he may be quite a man.

"What a spendthrift he is of his tongue."

ESTELLA LOUISE ATWELL

"Elsie"

Brandon, Vermont

Brandon High School; Apollo Club (3).

Estella is "the other Atwell baby," and by using the same method as applied above, we find her identification complete. She, too, is highly versed in classic lore, and from her store of knowledge gleaned from the classical dictionaries, she tells stories of ancient gods and heroes. Some day she will write a book on "The Value of Latin and Greek in the College Curriculum." To make up for the lack of certain of her sister's characteristics, she has been known to display a trifle the more scorn for failure in the class room. Failure of others, we mean, for no one would ever dream of mentioning failure as a personal matter, in connection with these sisters. As our old friend in Horace, she shuns the "vulgar crowd." We would recommend her for a governess, for she never lets her little sister out of her sight.

*"She's little, but she's wise,
She's a terror for her size."*

ELSIE AGNES ATWELL

"Estella"

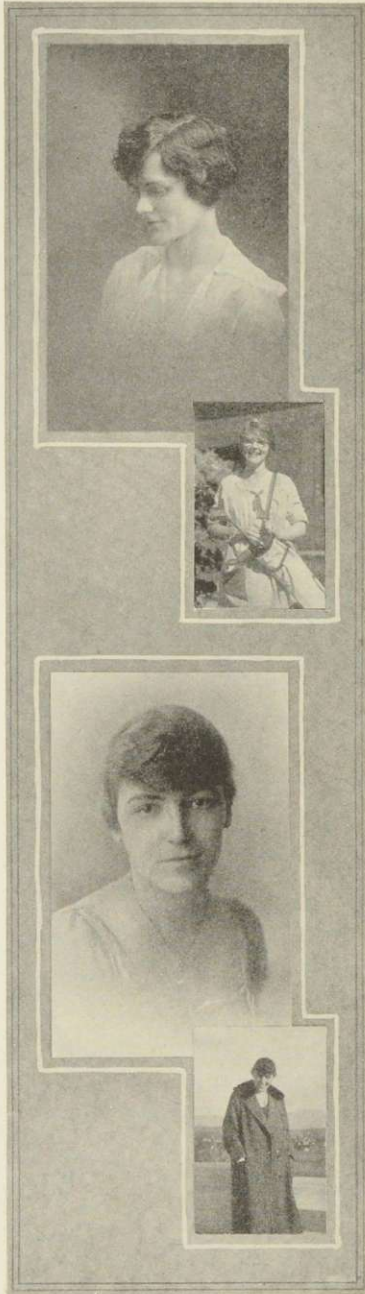

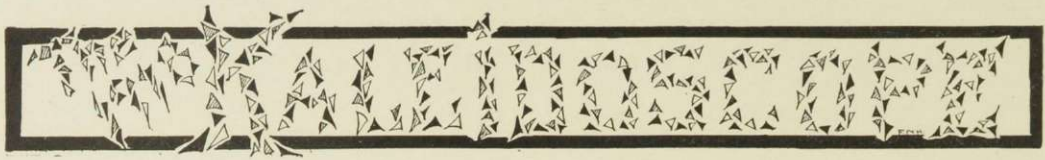

Brandon, Vermont

Brandon High School; Apollo Club (3).

"Which is which?" has been the weighty problem connected with the Atwell sisters ever since they arrived in Middlebury our Freshman year. Careful and prolonged observation has, however, finally evolved the conclusion that Elsie is a shade the shorter, a shade the darker, and has a mere shade the greater dislike for the sound of her own voice. It is a perfectly good voice, too, or would be if it had a bit more exercise! Elsie is a prodigy when it comes to books, and although unassertive, she knows more Latin and Greek than the majority of us, and always has her lessons mastered. We think she is reserving her voice for the salutatory next year. Faithful companion of her elder sister, and seldom seen without her, on campus or in the class room.

*"And still they gazed, and still the wonder grew,
That one small head could carry all she knew."*

DOROTHY MARIE BARR, ΔΔΔ

"Dot"

New York, New York

East Orange High School; Musical Association (2, 3);
Civics Club (2, 3).

"Dot" is the girl with the amazing dimples and the "New Yawk" accent. She is also the girl who always does a whole year's work at summer school, so that studies won't interfere with her college education. And that too, in spite of the fact that she objected strenuously to Middlebury, before she became reconciled to our distance from the Metropolis. "Dot" hasn't any bad habits worth recording, for she is rather a gentle maiden unless excited. Then—beware! She has one very pronounced characteristic, her devotion to her roommate. Have you ever seen one without the other? On the whole "Dot" is a fine girl, and we are just as fond of her as she is of Midd.

"With malice toward none, with charity for all."

DOROTHY ELIZABETH BREWSTER, AX

"Dot"

Middlebury, Vermont

Middlebury High School; Deutscher Verein (2); Home Economics Club (2, 3).

After two years of college life in town, "Dot" has come up on the hill to get our view-point and whatever else she can acquire. At present she has succeeded in learning to keep quiet hours—sometimes. The sign on her door usually reads, "In Helen Diehl's room, please call," and once there with an interesting topic for conversation, and a good magazine for variety's sake, "Dot" is perfectly happy. Her chief occupation is making fudge for "all sorts and conditions of men," and she surely proves that she has not taken Domestic Science for nothing. We hope "Dot" will remain on the hill, for who could help liking her.

*"Hang sorrow, care would kill a cat,
So therefore let's be merry."*

DOROTHY HELEN BROWN, AX

"Dot"

Newark, New Jersey

Barringer High School; Basketball (1); Class Vice-President (1); Cast of "Tempest" (1); Secretary and Treasurer of Tuesday Evening Club (2); Doshisha Committee; Assistant Business Manager of Campus (3); Home Economics Club (2); Musical Association (1, 3).

"Dot" arrived in Midd well versed in the fifty-seven varieties of college traditions, and she devoted much of her Freshman year to coaching the rest of us with respect to those same traditions. Since then, however, she has turned her energy toward the scholastic(?) side of college life, and finds it interesting to see how many courses she can carry at a time. But truly "Dot" is getting to be a regular little student, and is taking only one aimless course this year. However it's keeping her busy, and we wouldn't call it a cinch course exactly, though she still has time to assist in supervising the business department of the Campus, and to assume responsibility in one or two other directions. One of "Dottie's" chief worries (and her worries are numerous) is that she won't be considered quite grown up. Yet we wouldn't change her if we could.

"Breezy and jolly is she always."

RUTH MARY BRYANT, AX

"Rufus"

Middlebury, Vermont

Middlebury High School.

We admit that Ruth is a professor's daughter but guarantee her to be perfectly harmless, for she is not nearly as forbidding as she looks and behind her stern exterior is a kind heart and a genial nature. Her middle name is spelled M—A—R—Y, but we pronounce it "Merry," for who ever saw Ruth Mary cross? We hear that she is flunking Physics I and II but such is life in a small college, so bear up as well as you can, Ruth; we'll all put in a good word for you, to father. Ruth is quite conscientious about her work, but there is one course which interests her very much—Agriculture. Ask her about it. She'll rise at first but her usual smile will come out in the end. Together with her mother, Ruth has been very hospitable to our class, especially when we were lonesome Freshman.

"Nimble as a goat is she."

KALEIDOSCOPE

MARIE LOUISE CHAMPAGNE, ΠΒΦ

"Marie", "Princess"

Fitchburg, Massachusetts

Fitchburg High School; Musical Association (1); Sophomore Hop Committee (2); Chairman Committee Revision of Point System (3); Junior Prom Committee (3); Assistant Editor-in-Chief of KALEIDOSCOPE (3); Commencement Speaker; Civics Club (2, 3); Cercle Français (2, 3); Apollo Club (3).

"Howdie, Marie!" Marie comes from Fitchburg, as we all know, and has overcome being homesick now. We haven't been able to ascertain what attracted her the most in Middlebury, but there have been rumors to the effect that Marie needed the big open country in which to cultivate her voice. We regret that she is doing college in three years, for we shall miss her giggle next year, as well as her other characteristics. Her breathless haste, and "Dorie, wait for I," are well known in Pearsons; though on occasions Marie can be very dignified and imposing. We love the color of her hair, and added to these things a certain graciousness of manner, it is no wonder that she receives a warm welcome wherever she goes. We haven't yet spoken of her remarkable literary ability, or of her valuable assistance on the KALEIDOSCOPE (good team work there), but we all recognize these facts and know that Marie will succeed equally well in all that she undertakes.

*"I know a maiden fair to see,
Take care, take care."*

MARGARET CHATFIELD, ΠΒΦ

"Peg"

New Haven, Connecticut

Northfield Seminary; Basketball (2, 3); Membership Committee (3); Pan-Hellenic Council (3); Home Economics Club (2, 3); Freshman Rules Committee (2).

With her amiable disposition, "Peg" is one of the jolliest girls in the class, and behind that bar of reserve is a goodly amount of fun, and when once started—you'd know that laugh anywhere. When she arrived in Midd "Peg" brought with her that "baby stare," which changes only at the sight of food, due no doubt to the fact that she has specialized in food research, since Freshman year, when she found the shortest route to the store-room in Bat. Cot., without the use of stairs. One of her chief delights is taking hikes at anytime of day, varying in distance from downtown to Bridport. Just ask for a description of one. Lately she featured in "Carmen" as presented by third floor Pearsons, and we guarantee the production equal to the original. "Peg" would have us think that she delights in putting things over, yet everyone agrees that it is hard to find a fairer girl to deal with. This no doubt adds to her popularity. Known as the "Dreadnaught."

*"Happy am I, from care I'm free,
Why aren't they all contented like me?"*

KALEIDOSCOPE

ALICE MAY CHYNOWETH

"Alice"

St. Albans, Vermont

St. Albans High School; House Chairman Hillside (2); Silver Bay Delegate (2); House Committee Pearsons (3); Musical Association (1, 3); Deutscher Verein (3).

Alice is an example of the fact that no one can leave Midd unless he just has to—for though she tried it away from us a year, we got her back this fall, presumably because she recognized us as the best class, and so took a year's leave of absence in order that she might become a member of 1918. Alice certainly could not have accomplished the feat any other way, for she is an excellent student. But our only objection is that we see her too seldom, for she has camped on fourth floor Pearsons along with several Freshmen, who seem very fond of her. Lately there is a light in her eyes which belies the fact that she is as angelic as she seems, but be careful, Alice, and feel the responsibility of being one of our number.

"Not much talk, a great sweet silence."

HELEN SEYMOUR CLIFT, AX

"Clifty"

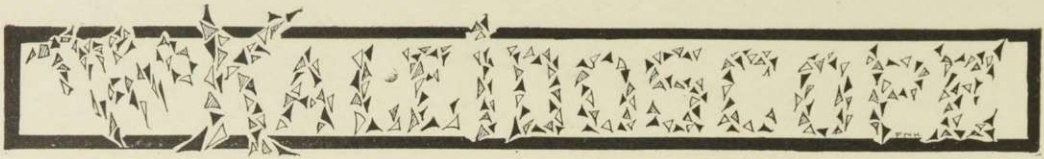

Fair Haven, Vermont

Fair Haven High School; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (1, 3); Basketball (1, 2, 3); Student Government Council (2, 3); Junior Play Committee (3); Assistant Business Manager KALEIDOSCOPE Board (3); Campus Reporter (3); Civics Club (2, 3); Apollo Club (3).

"B'enny chance" did you ever see "Cliftie" when she wasn't in a gale of merriment over her latest joke on her long-suffering roommate, or just bubbling over with big business of vital importance? But on the other hand Helen is an extremely busy girl, her activities ranging all along the scale from collecting KALEIDOSCOPE dues down to arranging courses in Bible study, and every board or committee in college has profited by her keen judgment. Her cares however rest lightly on her shoulders and no one could know Helen ever so slightly without realizing her love of fun. Her experiences at Halpin's enabled her to assume an angelic expression at council meetings, and to offer a reasonable explanation for any situation that might arise. She is otherwise known as "Dr. Clift" and her remedies are guaranteed never to fail. Helen is one of our finest girls, and we appreciate her.

"How doth the little busy bee improve each shining hour?"

ANNA MAUDE COFFIN, AX

"Mud"

Portland, Maine

Wheaton Seminary; Basketball (1); Manager of Tennis (3); Civics Club (3); Home Economics Club (2, 3); Vice-President Home Economics Club (2).

"Annie Maude." A spoiled child—yes, but a very likeable one, and behind those big brown eyes, the eternal "Why" is persistently presenting itself, and trying to make a little philosopher out of our "Annie Maude." All this is true, and "if you'd been at Darby, you'd have seen it as well as I." Her chief occupation this year is sleeping and rousing herself to say, "What's that? What did you say?" When satisfied she usually returns to hibernate once more. She is interested in "Child Labor" (Ec. 9) and applies her knowledge by training a particular Freshman, especially in dancing. Besides this she could be our finest musician, if she only would, and we do hope she will right away, so that we may enjoy her talent during the time she is still with us on the Hill.

*"What's this dull town to me?
Robin's(on) not near."*

GOLDIE JOSEPHINE COURTEMANCHE

"Teddy"

Wilmington, Vermont

Wilmington High School; Basketball (3); Cercle Français (2, 3); Civics Club (3).

Goldie is our chief star when it comes to acting for she can take any part from one in a third-floor Pearsons vaudeville, to the dignified role of a prosecuting attorney, or an impersonation of "Teddy R." Her most striking characteristic is her giggle, once heard, never to be forgotten, which ranks third on the list at Pearsons. How she can keep it subdued long enough to warrant her constant attendance at church downtown Sunday evenings, is something of a problem. She does though, and her present devotion to church service is as marked as that which she displayed toward lessons Freshman year. It might well be "axt"—what has wrought this change?

*"A merrier girl,
I never spent an hour's talk withal."*

MARY ELEANOR CRANE, ΔΔΔ

"Eleanor"

Hackettstown, New Jersey

Hackettstown High School; Class Vice-President (2); Pan-Hellenic Council (3); Civics Club (3); Home Economics Club (3); Apollo Club (3).

Eleanor comes from the region of Jersey "skeeters," and from all appearances is the most demure of young ladies. But here again looks are deceiving, and even mere acquaintances admit that her dignity conceals an Eleanor full of fun, who will laugh at everything, even Goldie's jokes. Yet we will say this, that her laugh is not as evident as some on the same floor. Eleanor believes in preparedness, to the extent of writing her Economics thesis a month ahead, yet in spite of this she finds time to attend to her social duties.

"Courteous though coy, and gentle though retired."

MARION ALICE DEAN, ΣΚ

"Cutie"

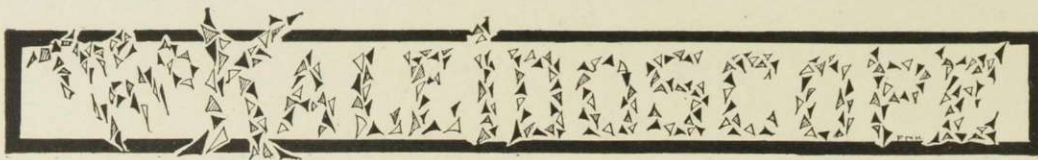

North Pownal, Vermont

Williamstown High School; Freshman Rules Committee (2); Class Secretary (2); Sophomore Hop Committee (2); Membership Committee (3); First Horace Prize (2); Basketball (3); Manager of Basketball (3); KALEIDOSCOPE Board (3); Silver Bay Delegate (2); Junior Prom Committee (3); Assistant Associate Business Manager Campus (3); Musical Association (3); Cercle Français (2, 3); Apollo Club (3); Civics Club (3).

Marion is known not only by her musical ability but also by her laugh, which hits all the sharps and flats from low C to high. And when we think of her escapades, since Freshman year, we can all laugh with her, with the exception of S. G. and the house chairmen. Marion is a perfect genius for ringing in on all the excitement in college, and when there is nothing on, she and "Peg" are quite likely to start something. They invariably succeed, for as members of the "Big Five," they did not lack practice. But Marion has her serious side as well, and of late we notice that she is interested in the Bible, concentrating especially on "Jeremiah."

*"All the world's a jest,
I thought so once, and now I know it."*

HELEN ALEXANDRA DIEHL, AX

"Diehl"

South Natick, Massachusetts

Wellesley High School; Deutscher Verein (1, 2, 3);
Civics Club (2); Junior Play Cast.

"Diehly" is sometimes "funny peculiar" and often funny, the latter especially when she comes into a room, and walks round and round with 'Wait till I tell—kids!' We know then that something interesting is to follow, for Helen is our chief source of information on all subjects. In fact she has been ever since Freshman year, when on coming to college she used to instruct the inhabitants of Halpin's on "How to Handle Men." But of late Helen has turned to new interests and is specializing in clothes, particularly Coates, and while this takes a great deal of time, yet she is studying hard too, and we are getting worried. She loves to kid people along and then make up, but on the whole it would be hard to find a more cheerful and pleasant girl, always ready to help when there is any fun on.

*"Eat, drink and be merry,
For to-morrow we die."*

HAZEL GRACE DOODY

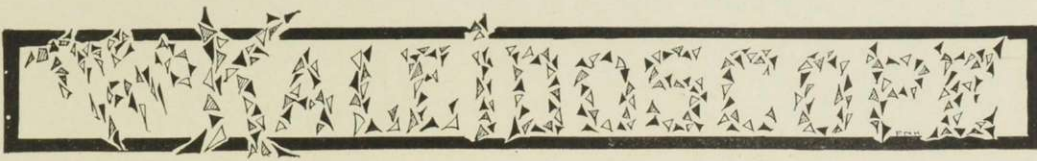

"Doog"

Middlebury, Vermont

Middlebury High School; Musical Association (3); Apollo Club (3); Civics Club (3); Cercle Français (2, 3).

Hazel came to college with family traditions to uphold, and she certainly is upholding them as far as Math. is concerned. She is Professor Perkins' pride and joy, and by her skill has helped less brainy members to reflect her glory. When Hazel first arrived she found a little friend and playmate, and they have been constant companions ever since. So don't be alarmed if she says that she is going to leave college, for evidence would indicate that she finds life here quite too pleasant to be given up. One of the few Alpha Sig sisters in Middlebury, but she is a loyal one.

*"For if she will, she will, and you may depend on't,
And if she won't, she won't, and there's an end on't."*

HANNAH DVORCEF

"Han"

Brooklyn, New York

Somerville High School; Deutscher Verein (3); Civics Club (3).

Without a doubt Hannah is the tiniest member of our class, but don't judge her mental capacity by her size, or you will fall short of the mark. She is a walking encyclopedia, and can supply a varied assortment of knowledge on any subject. Freshman year this trait was a marvel to us all, but we have gradually grown to appreciate it, as much as we do her sunny disposition. Outside of classes we seldom see her, for she lives down town, and doesn't get up on the hill very often. But this young lady has one besetting sin—cutting chapel! It is evidently regarded as incurable for she has a standing excuse nowadays.

"Her time she spends in studies deep."

MARION GRACE ELMER, ΔΔΔ

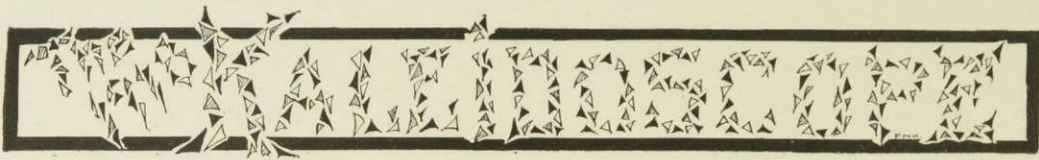

"Marion Grace"

Middlebury, Vermont

Middlebury High School; Basketball (1, 2, 3); Deutscher Verein (2, 3); Apollo Club (3); Home Economics Club (2, 3); Junior Play Cast.

You might not guess it, but Marion isn't afraid of anything. No indeed! Neither will she allow herself to be bossed, and while she is really a good girl, she gets provoked too easily, defending herself by calling it "righteous indignation." Although her home, which is a perfect Mecca for picnics, is only a few miles from Midd. Marion always spends her summers at Bread Loaf—a place that seems to have peculiar attractions for her. We wonder why. Again we wonder why no amount of persuasion can induce her to live on the hill. Just ask for the reason!

*"Men are deceivers ever,
To one girl constant never."*

BERTHA ELIZABETH FARRELL

"Bert"

Middlebury, Vermont

Middlebury High School; Musical Association (1, 2, 3); Apollo Club (3); Cercle Français (2, 3), Secretary-Treasurer (3).

Bertha is another one of '18's sharks, and is an established authority along several lines, Math. being her specialty. But she lives at home, and so there is nothing to prevent her from burning the midnight oil, if it becomes necessary to defend her title. We are equally willing to yield her the field when it comes to argument for unless Bertha chances to change her mind, no one stands a show of convincing her. Her chief amusement is singing French songs, and we are wondering what she will take up on leaving college, but we know that whatever she does will be a success.

"For c'en though vanquished, she could argue still."

ELSIE LANGWORTHY FOOTE, ΣK

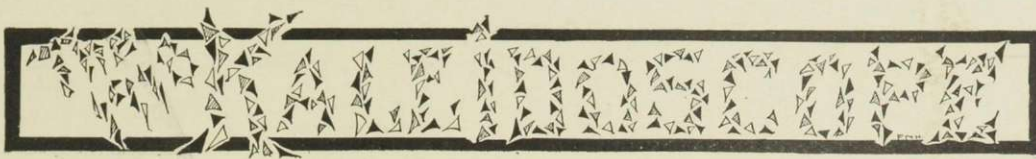

"Elsie"

Vergennes, Vermont

Vergennes High School; Deutscher Verein (2, 3); Vice-President (3); Apollo Club (3); Civics Club (3); Junior Play Cast.

Here is the youngest member of our noble class, but be it also known, she is wise for her years. Elsie came to college with curls down her back, tied with a ribbon, and everyone was certainly pleased with her. Since then she has acquired dignity along with years, but it is still a joke, when Elsie tries to assume responsibility or look worried. Once in awhile she likes to cause excitement, as at Hillside for example, but most of the time she tends strictly to lessons, with the result that she was never once caught off guard even in Prof. "Wads" French class. For a time she was interested in the wild Rutland boys, but now she has shifted her attention. With all her faults we love her still.

*"She knits her childish brow
With stout resolve to evolve
Some mountain-sized idea."*

ALICE KATHERINE FULLER

"Brown Eyes"

Rutland, Vermont

Rutland High School.

Alice is one of those bright girls that Middlebury needs, and although she has the reputation of being a constant student, those who remember her Freshman year at Halpin's know that she loves fun as well as anyone else. While her ability in lessons, particularly Math., is marked, yet she accomplishes much outside of school too, and she is a favorite generally, not because she pulls people through, but for her own sweet sake as well. Alice's favorite topic of conversation is camping on Lake Champlain, and she will explain to you at any time the joys of So. Hero. The only thing we have against Alice is that it took her so long to make up her mind to let a certain little Midd. boy go down to Mexico. On the side we might mention that she receives a box of chocolates every Saturday.

*"Quiet she was, forsooth, not vain;
If friends be credit, she has much gain."*

EDNA MATILDA GILL, ΔΔΔ

"Ed"

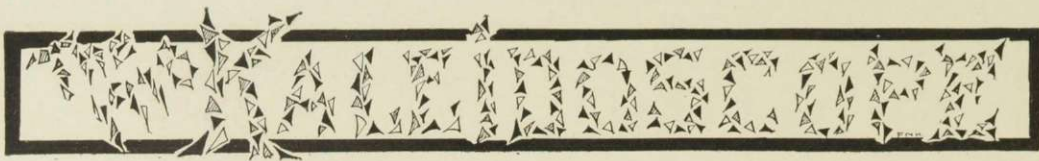

Springfield, Vermont

Springfield High School; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (3).

We had intended to tell you how bright "Ed" is, but she threatened anyone who called her a "grind" with her displeasure, so we gave it second thought. However "Ed" is surely upholding family tradition in Math., in spite of the fact that she has been laboring with the problem "Should College Girls wear Solitaires?" and solved it to her satisfaction along with many others. But beware! This is the one subject on which "Ed" will not be kidded, and while the offensive may not be her strong point, her defensive surely is. However with the present turn of events, we cannot help wishing that she had majored in Home Economics instead of Math., but no doubt she will apply her ability in Calculus to solving household problems. Although "Ed" is very quiet and unassuming, she has a great deal of common sense mixed with fun.

"How far that little candle throws its beam."

ALICE CATHERINE HALPIN

"Alice"

Middlebury, Vermont

Middlebury High School; Musical Association (1, 2, 3); Civics Club (2); Cercle Français (2, 3); Apollo Club (3); House Chairman of Halpin's (3).

"The Halpinites" of '18 remember quite well their jolly little friend of Freshman year, and we think those of '20 will too, for though Alice has risen to the dignity of house chairman, she still retains her same sweet disposition, and her loyalty and interest in all the girls. She is something of a student too, in spite of the fact that her environment is not always conducive to study, for everyone knows what a crowd of wild Freshmen can do. But Alice, too, is always ready for a good time, and we feel that her sweetness will carry her a good ways in the world, and cause her to be remembered by those she meets in the summer (?) as well as by her college friends.

*"There was a soft and pensive grace,
A cast of thought, on her sweet face."*

MARGARET MAE HARRIS, AX

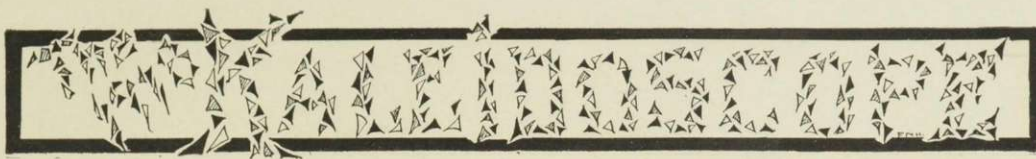

"Peg"

Stowe, Vermont

Stowe High School; Musical Association (1, 2, 3); College Choir (2, 3); KALEIDOSCOPE Board (3); Junior Prom Committee (3); Pan-Hellenic Council (3); Cercle Français (2, 3), Vice-President (3); Civics Club (2).

We are inclined to think that the sunny qualities of Middlebury make it particularly attractive to "Peg." At any rate she displayed better taste than her brothers in the choice of an Alma Mater. "Peg" was one of the "Halpinites" of Freshman year, and contributed her portion to the fun, for she is a jolly, pleasant girl, due no doubt to daily association, yet we know most of her good nature is inherent. We wish she would devote more of her time to the girls. For three years now "Peg" has been threatening to begin and work hard, yet she accomplishes other things besides studying. Dressmaking is one of her specialties, and it is a marvel to all who see her construct a gown in a short time. "Peg" is well liked by all who know her. A believer in a fair Diehl.

"A rose, but set with little wilful thorns."

RUTH AVALINE HESSELGRAVE, AX

"Hessel"

South Manchester, Connecticut

Chatham High School and South Orange High School; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (2, 3); Secretary Y. W. C. A. (2); Annual Member (3); Second Horace Prize (2); Delegate Intercollegiate Student Government Convention at Mount Holyoke (3); Campus Reporter (3); Deutscher Verein (2, 3), President (3); Musical Association (3); Apollo Club (3); Civics Club (3).

"Hessie" is certainly the best of examples of a minister's daughter, though we really think she is more conscientious than she would have us believe. Her greatest fault is her love of telling small falsehoods, such as "Girls, I haven't cracked a book," and then proceeding to recite before our very eyes. But then she came to college with a reputation which she is trying to live up to, and which has helped her through many a tight place. As a Shakespearian amateur, Ruth has no equal on the hill, and later on, no doubt, she will join the Ben Greet players. Y. W. C. A. has finally come to the conclusion that it can make more money by advertising her as a special at meetings, than by having her sell milk chocolate. But for all this "Hessie" is recognized as a good girl, and one who, no matter how busy, has time to help her neighbor.

*"Then she will talk,
Ye gods, how she will talk!"*

KATHERINE HOWARD HURD

"Katrina"

Concord, New Hampshire

Concord High School; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (3); Deutscher Verein (2).

Katherine's sunny disposition and cordial manner have endeared her to all the class, and we feel that without her we should have missed something. Hers is a familiar figure on campus, always carrying an armful of books, but while we used to think she was all too serious, we have recently learned that even "Kitty" can be kidded, and, what is more, can kid back with as good grace as any one. She has a habit of quoting "Cousin Frank," but we cannot blame her for being proud of him. Her greatest delight is to extort money from us for foreign missions, but then we need someone to show us why we should be generous. A fine student, and a friend of worth.

"Blue were her eyes as the fairy flax."

BESSIE CORNELIA JENNINGS

"Bess"

Greens Farms, Connecticut

Staples High School; Civics Club (3); Home Economics Club (3).

Bessie must have grown tired of Holyoke, for after looking Midd. over during summer session last year, she decided with the rest of us that it is the very best place on earth, and forthwith she joined the very best class. We were glad to welcome her too, for her good nature and common sense form a fund which is as often drawn on by us as by that irresponsible Sophomore sister, whose supervision consumes so much of Bessie's time. Every Sunday evening we find that Bessie is registered for Christian Endeavor.

"Few words suffice."

MARGUERITE HELON JONES, ΣK

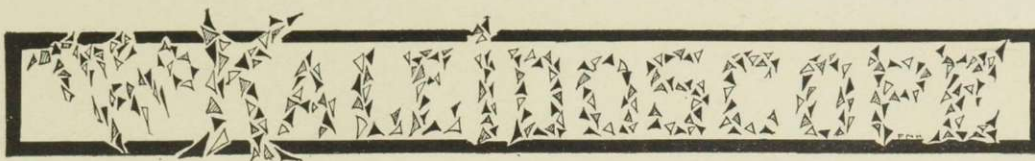

"Migit"

Mansfield, Massachusetts

Mansfield High School; Musegahe Club (1, 2, 3); Leader Musegahe Club (2); Pan-Hellenic Council (3); Treasurer Y. W. C. A. (3); Home Economics Club (2, 3), Secretary-Treasurer (3).

As a true blue member of the "Big Five," "Migit" has been found a most loyal friend in need, and we can always rely upon her to do things at the right time, and in the right way. As well as being a good student she runs the Musegahe Club proficiently, for she gets a great deal of inspiration from her roommate's melodious voice. But, oh how "Migit" does hate the men, and we feel sure that she would have no peace if they only knew how well she can cook. A jolly companion and a true friend.

*"For nothing lovelier can be found
In woman, than to study household good."*

DORIS ANNIE KENDALL, IIBΦ

"Dorie"

Pittsford, Vermont

Pittsford High School and Colby Academy; Student Government Council (1); Basketball (1, 2, 3), Captain (3); Manager Baseball (3); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (2); KALEIDOSCOPE Board (3); Fire Captain (3); Musical Association (3); Home Economics Club (2, 3); Junior Play Cast.

"Dorie! Dorie, where are you?" Well, figuratively speaking she is right there on everything, and we have concluded that her middle name ought to be versatility. Her interests are many: athletics, class, social, college activities in general, and dances at U. V. M. on the side. Some say "Dorie" is a bit reluctant about starting things, but once going she will see a thing through to the end. Her interest in basketball is only exceeded by that in baseball near Pearsons, no doubt because the ground is "Rocky." But in spite of all her duties, she has time to be jolly and happy, and often one can see "The Tug" and "The Dreadnaught" steaming along together. We have not quite decided what we shall have Doris do when she leaves college, but whatever field she enters, we know she will be a success, for she is faithful in all things and one of '18's best workers. We all appreciate her.

*"Her friends—they are many;
Her foes—are there any?"*

JOSEPHINE MENOTTI

"Jo"

Waterbury, Connecticut

Crosby High School; Musical Association (3); Cercle Français (2, 3); Apollo Club (3); Civics Club (2, 3).

First of all "Jo" is "Betty's" supreme favorite, because she comes from sunny Italy, via Connecticut, which is his idea of an ideal state. "Jo's" linguistic abilities are unlimited, though her extreme modesty forbids her exercising all her conversational powers, save on occasions. The one thing which baffles us, is how she accomplishes so much with such little fuss. She surely is a bright girl, and can talk on any conceivable subject. Together with Violet she forms the only original "long and short of it."

"I know her by her mildness rare."

ELSIE MONTEITH, ΣΚ

"Elsie"

Stanley, New Jersey

Stanley High School; Basketball (3); Musical Association (1, 2, 3); Civics Club (2, 3); Home Economics Club (2, 3); Junior Play Cast.

Elsie is one of our quiet members, deliberate in all things, but once her mind is made up, she might almost be called "set" in her ways. However she is known to become aroused about 10:15 on certain evenings, and we wonder what goes on behind her door. She is given to sleeping or dreaming during the day, but when awake, she is wide awake, and can ask more questions in class than anyone else. Would that she stayed awake oftener. But don't misjudge. Elsie has the faculty for always getting there, and that too without any ado. Her stronghold is walking, and she is always ready for a hike.

*"There ain't no use in all this strife,
An' rushin' pell-mell right through life;
It ain't no mortal kind o' good,
'N' I wouldn't hurry if I could."*

HELEN BEATRICE NEWTON, ΣΚ

"H. Newton"

Oxford, Massachusetts

Oxford High School; College Choir (2, 3); Musegahe Club (1, 2, 3); Business Manager Musegahe Club (2, 3); College Orchestra (3); Junior Play Committee (3); Third Horace Prize (2); Musical Association (1, 2, 3); Cercle Français (2, 3); Civics Club (3).

Newton is one of the musicians of the class. No one who has ever roomed near her can fail to be aware of the fact that she sings—all songs at all hours, but particularly hymns during quiet hours. She is Ever(itt) it. But Helen's ability does not end here, for she is a good all round girl, in class as well as in social life. Freshman year we used to think her a quiet little mouse, but she is far from that, being one of our cheeriest members. No matter how dreary the day, or how badly things are going, she is one of those "quiet but mighty" persons, and if you doubt it, ask what happened one night when the clock was an hour slow. Chief amusement diplomatically handling two invitations for a function, and getting back lost gloves.

*"I want to be an angel, and never do a thing,
But play upon a golden harp, and sing, and sing, and sing."*

RUTH LOUISE NORRIS, ΔΔΔ

"Norris"

Cabot, Vermont

Northfield Seminary; House Chairman Battell Cottage (2, 3); Sophomore Hop Committee (2); Junior Prom Committee (3); KALEIDOSCOPE Board (3); Class Vice-President (3); Membership Committee (3); Apollo Club (3); Civics Club (3).

Louise is the very height of decision in her opinions and especially in her likes and dislikes. Last year she was "Mamma" to half Bat. Cot., hearing troubles and giving advice, but this year with her rise to the position of House Chairman, has come the added responsibility of enforcing rules. Yet she by no means devotes her entire time to Bat. Cot., for she takes a motherly interest in the Alpha Sigma Phi infants as well. Yet the strangest part of it is, Louise is young and full of fun herself, and although her interests are many, she shows a constant activity and keenness of mind in them all. For her good services in its behalf the Junior Class is truly grateful.

"I never knew so young a body with so old a head."

FRANCES MARY PRAY

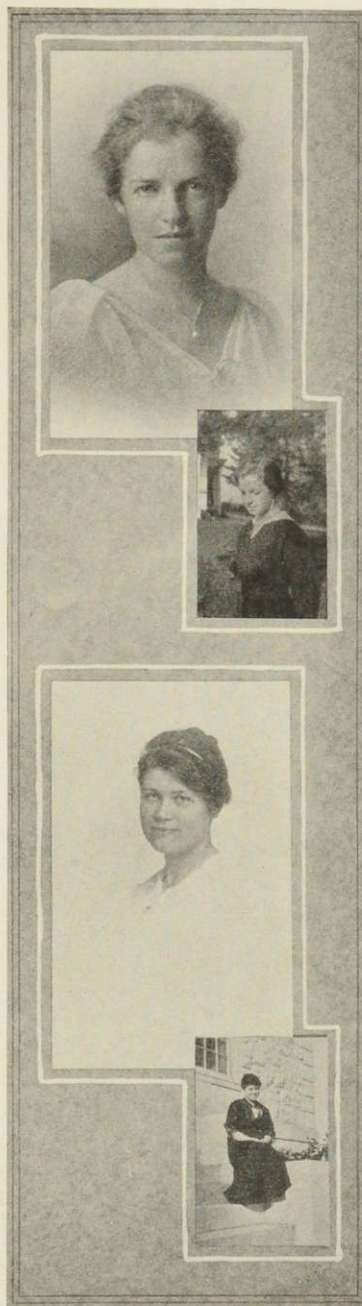

"Fran"

Bristol, New Hampshire

Abbot Academy.

Frances transferred her activities to Middlebury at the beginning of our Sophomore year, and immediately proceeded to make Music Hall the center of said activities. Sometimes she takes an afternoon off and goes faculty calling, but this is the extent of her dissipation, for breaks in routine spell disaster to system, and system is the keynote of life. Frances is not one of those who follow the motto, "When fun and duty clash, let duty go to smash." Far be it from her; she is duty's right hand man, and moreover is most decided in her opinions. But once in awhile, when Hesselgrave gets a hold of her, she forgets a few of her resolutions. If more of us could be persuaded to follow her example the demand for Phi Beta Kappa keys would far exceed the supply, but then you know man is inherently lazy, and it would take lots of "pep" to keep up with Frances. Have you heard her slang?

"I have gained my experience!"

LOUISE HARRISON REYNOLDS, AX

"Dear Reynolds"

Rutland, Vermont

Rutland High School; Class Secretary (1, 3); House Committee Pearsons (3); Assistant Associate Business Manager Campus (3); Musical Association (2, 3), Secretary-Treasurer (2); Vice-President (3); Civics Club (3); Apollo Club (3).

Louise really has a wonderfully even disposition, though a trifle "wild" at times, as at seven twenty-nine P. M. third floor, Pearsons. Her middle name is spelled H—A—R—R—I—S—O—N, but we pronounce it "gullible." Louise does not try to hide the fact that she is for woman suffrage—witness her New York mail; and we believe that the first woman President of the United States will be a Midd. graduate, '18. But notwithstanding such ambitions, Louise has a very sweet nature, and added to that a spirit of true friendship, which makes her beloved by all, and a girl of "fine possibilities."

*"Her air, her manners, all who saw admired,
Courteous, though coy, and gentle, though retired;
The joy of youth and health her eyes display'd,
And ease of heart her every look convey'd."*

MARGUERITE ROGERS

"Deat"

Worcester, Massachusetts

English High School; Deutscher Verein (3); Apollo Club (3); Civics Club (3).

Marguerite is the only product of Worcester that our class possesses, and in this alone she would prove valuable, but she has a good mind as well, that she uses to advantage in tennis and in studies. Many of us do not know her as well as we might, for she has an apparent barrier of reserve, but we have heard say that on occasions she can be as lively as any, when she is dressed up for amateur acting, or stunts to be pulled off with Goldie. Bat., Cot., Sophomore year, surely appreciated her efforts. Keep up the good work, and help "third floor" Pearsons a little oftener. Marguerite can also discourse on the joys of entertaining in Hillside before the new reception room was put in.

"Thy modesty is a candle to thy merit."

LUCY SMITH

"Lucy"

Plymouth, Massachusetts

Naugatuck High School; Secretary Student Government (3); Secretary-Treasurer Civics Club (3); Silver Bay Delegate (2); Delegate to Intercollegiate Student Government Association at Mount Holyoke (3); KALEIDOSCOPE Board (3); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (3); Eight-week Club Leader (2); Apollo Club (3); Home Economics Club (3).

Lucy hails from the home of our Pilgrim forefathers, and, as we would naturally expect, is a serious-minded, conscientious girl, with the faculty for seeing her duty and performing it. Yet she has been known to conduct side shows in quiet hours with Hazel as assistant. She is quite keen on camping parties, but her experiences at Dunmore are too numerous to relate—kindly inquire. She is 1918's traveller: first to Silver Bay, then Mt. Holyoke, with several other trips on the side. She tries very hard to be dignified, but often her giggle betrays her, and we are glad too, for her pleasantness, along with her sympathetic nature, makes her a good confidant, when one is in trouble.

"Charity never faileth."

CHRISTINE JANE WEBSTER, ΠΒΦ

"Chris"

Whiting, Vermont

Middlebury High School; Basketball (1, 2, 3); Membership Committee (2, 3); Junior Play Committee (3); Deutscher Verein (2); Apollo Club (3); Home Economics Club (2, 3).

Christine is one of those girls whom to see is to love, and in spite of her demure look and dignified mien, is lots of fun. She has an amiable disposition too, except when she thinks she is being "picked on," and then she will rise, but who wouldn't when "Peg" gets on the rampage. Since Freshman year "Chris" has been one of the best liked girls, and we appreciate her presence this year, on third floor, where she has labored diligently with "Margaret," coming to the conclusion that these out-of-state people are hopeless. She is one of "Betty's" stand-bys, and never tires of saying, "Girls, I haven't looked at my Latin, and I get called on to-day." "Chris's" one sore subject is Whiting, please let it alone.

*"Grace was in all her steps, heaven in her eye,
In every gesture, dignity and love."*

Junior Play

The Junior Play was given Saturday evening of Junior Week, in the McCullough Gymnasium, and marked the closing of an exceptionally successful festive week. The committee selected "Mary Goes First," an English comedy, for presentation, and it proved a decided success. Those chosen were well adapted for their parts, but much of the credit was due Professor Burrage, who gave so much of his time to coaching and staging the play.

Junior Prom

Class of 1917

McCullough Gymnasium, May 5th, 1916

The Junior Prom of 1916 was, without doubt, one of the most attractive in the history of the college. An efficient committee introduced several innovations, among which was McEnelley's Singing Orchestra. The hall was beautifully decorated with evergreens, and the class colors, purple and white, while the dance orders were in the form of leather wrist bands in the college colors.

Silver Bay Club

The Silver Bay Club consists of those students sent as delegates from Middlebury to the Y. W. C. A. Student Conference at Silver Bay, New York, where several hundred girls, from New England Colleges, meet for religious conference. For ten days the delegates meet every morning for bible and mission classes and for lectures given by leaders in the Y. W. C. A. In the afternoons, the girls of the different colleges engage in athletic contests and other forms of recreation. The main purpose of the conference is to give inspiration and enthusiasm to the girls, who are to carry on the work in their college organizations the following year.

With our Debaters

Last season, as the year before, the only debate Middlebury had was with the University of Vermont. This was the "rubber" contest with U. V. M., Middlebury having won in 1914, and lost in 1915. Our team had been carefully drilled by Coaches Wetherell, Cunningham, and Abbott, and were prepared to go against much stronger opposition than was given by the Burlington delegation. The team consisted of Floyd '16, Edmunds '17, and Buffum '18, with Miller '17 as alternate. The result was a unanimous decision for Middlebury.

At the beginning of his college year, debating material was not promising in the three upper classes, so the club was opened to freshmen, at the suggestion of Professor Wetherell. There was also under discussion a plan for changing the system of submitting and choosing questions. Then, at the very beginning of the work, the debating received a severe blow. This was the sudden death of Professor Wetherell. Instrumental in organizing the club, he had been the real heart of the work, and after the Christmas vacation, when the men came back, it was found that those who had worked with him practically refused to go on with the work.

The result has been that attention has been turned to the freshmen, and the helping of them, that the important work of debating may turn out a varsity team next year. With the opportunity and material that Middlebury affords, this should and could be done.

The Women's Athletic Association is one of the important organizations among the women. It insures healthful and beneficial sports such as basketball, baseball, tennis, and out-of-door pleasures. This year more has been done in the line of winter sports than in previous years, a toboggan-slide being one of the main features.

Our Coaches

SIMEON E. MURCH

Baseball Coach

Aside from being the best baseball coach Middlebury College has ever had, we like to think of "Simmie" as one of the boys, genial and big-hearted, working for Middlebury every minute of the day. As a coach, no one could be more effective in results attained, or more proficient in methods, and his attitude toward all makes everyone his friend. His is a hearty, frank, and friendly disposition, characterizing him as a man who cannot but appeal to all, students and faculty, and those interested in the welfare of Middlebury College.

S. E. MURCH

EDWIN N. HOLMES

Football and Track Coach

Since coming to be among us two years ago, Mr. Holmes has shown himself most interested in the welfare of our college, not only in creating a greater interest in athletics in general, but also in providing a more technical and complete knowledge of those sports that put out varsity teams. The greater variety of sports, now enjoyed here, is recognized in the interest in the gym work, tennis, hockey, snowshoeing, skiing, and tobogganning, all more or less due to his efforts. Mr. Holmes is also to be thanked for his attitude toward both undergraduates and faculty, in endeavoring to provide the materials for enjoying these sports, as well as explaining their use, at a sacrifice on his part which is appreciated by all.

The Athletic Situation

With the arrival of Messrs. Holmes and Murch as resident coaches, the athletic situation at Middlebury has undergone a material change for the better. The advantages of a constructive policy of coaching over the old and obsolete method of choosing a coach just before the season opened, has been clearly shown by our last track season, our last two football seasons, and our last baseball season.

Mr. Holmes came to us from the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College, as our first resident physical director, and with a contract running a number of years. With the assistance of Mr. Murch, resident baseball coach, he has reorganized the whole system of athletics here, putting everything upon a sound and sensible basis.

With the results that these men have already obtained to guide us, we may look forward to an athletic standing, which a college of our type would warrant, and it is hoped by all that these men will continue to have charge of our athletics.

So far throughout the college history, tennis has been a dormant sport in our relations with other colleges, but in view of the added interest among the students, an effort is being made to organize a team. Tennis is now recognized by the Athletic Board, in so far as the manager is given a vote, and the sport itself allowed a small budget for expenses. We are very much in need of more courts, and it is hoped that in the near future twelve may be installed along the road to the athletic field.

Athletics have gained in importance among the New England Colleges the last year, and Middlebury has taken her part in this growth. Together with the increased facilities for studies, Middlebury has improved in an athletic way. The track team made an excellent record last year. It won its three dual meets, and placed sixth in the New England Intercollegiates. In the last named, it beat out Amherst and Bowdoin. This excellent record is due to the splendid coaching of J. Phillip Jones who has by his methods, laid the foundations for as good a team the coming spring.

Review of the 1916 Track Season,

For the past three seasons, Middlebury has been climbing steadily up in the track world, and this last season has seen her at her best. With a stainless record of three victories, and no defeats, besides winning sixth place in the New England Intercollegiates, the season of 1916 will go down as more than successful. Coach Holmes certainly deserves a great deal of credit for bringing the team through so successful a season. The men were all kept in the best of condition through his efforts, and were able and ready at all times, to give all they had.

Our old rival, the University of Vermont, was met during Junior Week and defeated 72-54, after an interesting and closely contested meet. St. Lawrence was next met at Canton, N. Y., and proved an easy victim. The last meet, with R. P. I., resulted in an overwhelming victory for Middlebury. Jones '19 placed second in the two-mile at the Intercollegiates, thus securing the first points scored by a Middlebury team. On looking over the records, we find in every meet at least one new record set up; Hollister '17 is credited with 2, Lee '17 with 2, Jones '19 with 2, Condit '16 with 1, and Brewster '18 with 1. Manager Mason is arranging a schedule somewhat harder than usual, but with only two of last year's point winners lost by graduation, and the added material from the freshman class, the prospects for another undefeated team are very bright.

Ben Greet Players

For several years the famous Ben Greet Players have made up a part of the program for Commencement Week, and Middlebury is especially fortunate in having a campus suited for such out-door performances. Last spring, however, owing to the inclemency of the weather, both the afternoon and evening presentations were given in the McCullough Gymnasium. "The Taming of the Shrew" and "As You Like It" were the Shakespearian plays given, and as was shown by the large attendance, they were most successful.

Commencement Dinner

Centennial of the Birth of John G. Saxe '39

The annual Commencement Dinner of Middlebury College, was served in the McCullough Gymnasium, Wednesday, June 21st, immediately after the commencement exercises, when over three hundred students of the class of 1916, alumni, faculty, and friends of the college, gathered there. The number present greatly exceeded that of previous years, and the centennial of the birth of John G. Saxe, a graduate of the class of 1839, was celebrated with gala festivities. The addresses of the afternoon were given by:—

HON. JOHN G. SAXE, LL.D.

MR. HOWARD ELLIOT, LL.D.

REV. ARTHUR H. BRADFORD, D.D.

Commencement Ball

Class of 1916

At the McCullough Gymnasium, June 21, 1916

The Senior Ball was only one of the successful features of Commencement Week. The attendance was very large and all granted the excellence of the music, which was furnished by Zita's orchestra. The presence of alumni and friends, helped to make this one of the year's jolliest and most successful dances.

COACH HOLMES

Football at Middlebury, in the last three years, has been steadily advancing, and although by no means have we reached our maximum efficiency, we have made a most enviable showing during the past season. Our advancement may not be clearly appreciated by the casual score observer, but all who are acquainted with Middlebury's past schedules will say it is not so much that we have won five games this season, tied one, and lost two, but that we have been playing colleges which are larger and perhaps better known to the East. Our records during the last few years are making it possible for us to get Williams, Trinity, Amherst, and other colleges of equal repute on our schedules. It is giving to Middlebury her rightful place. Our outlook for next year, in successfully competing with the colleges in the class of those just mentioned, to say the least is most gratifying. The football season this year has done more to bring the whole student body into one accord than perhaps any other one activity.

E. N. HOLMES,
Coach.

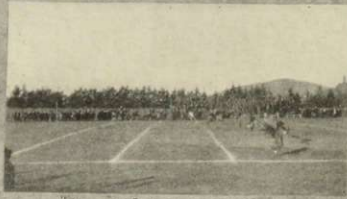

CAPT. LANG

With the six to two victory over the University of Vermont, Middlebury closed the most successful football season she has ever had. The team, composed largely of veterans, was one which any college might well be proud of, as they worked together in a unit for the good of the College as well as themselves. With the addition of the new material, which is rapidly increasing, Middlebury will have just as good a team next year, — a team that will be a credit to those who are closely connected with it, as well as to the institution of which it is an integral part.

Class History

In the fall of the year 1915, the entire student body, and the faculty of Middlebury College witnessed the entrance of the largest and most illustrious class, since the founding of the college; — the class of 1919.¹

During our two years at Middlebury our class has not only proved its worth in every way, but has upheld the standards and traditions of the college to the utmost. In our freshman year we were as kings over the class of 1918.² There was no branch of sport or college work in which we did not show our superiority over them. The inter-class meet, the hat scrap, and the baseball game are sad memories for them to recall. To show our amiability³ and good will even toward them we did allow an even score in the football game. Their reverence for us now is the highest.⁴

Thus far, our sophomore year has been as pleasant as we had hoped. Due to hard work in books, (we have a large number of honor students in the class) we were defeated in the baseball game and hat scrap by the class of 1920.

There are yet two years before us in which we intend to bring added fame to our class and dear old Midd.⁵

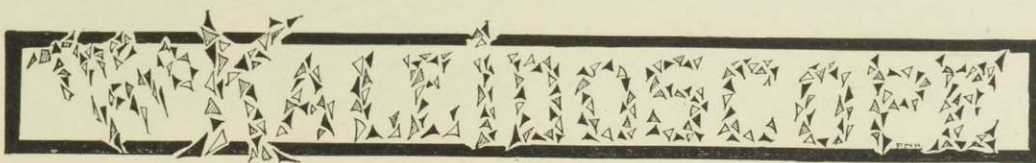

1. The college should donate a room. They debate well.
2. "O wad some power the giftie gie us
To see ourselfs as ithers see us."
3. Extreme generosity.
4. Admitted, proven, and accepted without question (?).
5. They don't have to prove it—they admit it.

Interfraternity Council

The Interfraternity Council of Middlebury College was founded in 1913, for the primary purpose of developing plans for an organized rushing system, and secondly to discuss, in an open and friendly way, matters which affect fraternity interests and relations, and to promote good feeling between the fraternities. The body is composed of two members of the faculty who shall not belong to a fraternity having a chapter in this college, and of two student representatives from each fraternity, one a senior and one a junior. One member a year is elected, and holds office for two years. The council is presided over by one of the faculty members.

The first of the three big college dances of the year, was held November twenty-ninth in the gymnasium. The hall was very prettily decorated with streamers of black and gold. Evergreen branches made the stage look very attractive, and at the back the class numerals and the letter "M" were outlined in yellow chrysanthemums. Collins Banjo Orchestra of Albany, New York, furnished the music.

The Middlebury Union of the Men of Middlebury College

The Union was founded in the fall of 1913 as an outgrowth of the Y. M. C. A. of the college. The latter organization, was felt to have lost its usefulness, inasmuch as it did not reach the student body of the men's college, to a large enough degree.

The Union was established as an organization which should include in its membership all the men of the college, and should have as its function, the supervision of all the activities in which the college as a unit, is interested.

Among the varied activities of the Union, are the periodic assembling of the men for athletic rallies, discussion of grievances which may have arisen in matters of student interest, and like subjects. But perhaps the chief value of the Union lies in the fact, that it brings together in frequent meetings the men of the college, thus fostering greater loyalty and good fellowship.

Student Government Association of the Women of Middlebury College

The object of this association, is to control the management of all matters concerning the conduct of students in their college life, which are not strictly academic, or which are not reserved to the jurisdiction of the faculty; to further in every way the spirit of unity of the women of the college; to increase their sense of responsibility toward each other, and to be a medium by which the social standard of the college may be maintained.

All women registered as students in the college, become members of this association upon reading and signing the constitution and by-laws, unless they prefer to remain under faculty supervision.

College Orchestra

The Middlebury college orchestra was instituted in 1894 through the efforts of Prof. Theodore Henckels. It is composed of eligible musicians from the student body and plays for the informal college dances and various collegiate affairs of the year. Through the interest and efforts of President Thomas it has had for its leader for the past two years Mr. Vittum of Middlebury, an accomplished clarinetist.

The college band originated in 1909 through the efforts of E. J. Wiley '13 and Dean Walter E. Howard. Mr. Vittum was engaged as leader for the first year, and is serving in that capacity at the present time. Beginning with only six pieces, the band which has grown until it now numbers twenty, is an organization indispensable in athletic games and collegiate affairs, and is easily the best college band in the state.

Class History

Rather shy and self conscious, the class of 1920 made its initial appearance on the campus of Middlebury College. Imagine our consternation to find that certain careful provisions had been made for us by the Sophomores, as the many bulletins that suddenly sprang into view evidenced. We were instructed as to what would be the most becoming¹ for us in the line of haberdashery, and just the manner in which we should proceed to classes. Like all obedient children, we were very careful to obey every law that was laid down and with becoming meekness.²

We had an opportunity to retaliate however, and we did so very thoroughly, by severely trouncing them in Baseball and the Hat Scrap. As these two defeats seemed to intimidate them, they failed to show up for the Football game which was forfeited to us in consequence.³ For some unfortunate reason we failed to win the Track Meet, which we did not mind so very much as we were willing to concede this to serve as a balm for the Soph's wounded feelings.

After a while the strangeness gradually wore off, and we began to become acquainted with our fellow students, finding them to be quite a pleasant bunch of fellows after all.⁴ We found the ideals that Middlebury College stands for to be of the very highest, and they have inspired us with the ambition to bring out the very best that is in us. It is therefore our intention to make the record of the Class of 1920 something that will be a pleasure to look back upon in after years, and set a standard that future classes will do well to emulate.⁵

1. They admit it.
2. Correct.
3. None are so blind as those that can see and won't see.
4. Generosity to the college as a whole.
5. Notice their retiring disposition.

The meet with Dartmouth was good, considering the drawbacks under which our men had prepared. The defeat need not be apologized for. Freshmen and Sophomores are becoming interested in the work, and a first-class team seems possible, although a winning gym team requires years of interest and drudgery in preparation.

Student Fire Department

The college last year bought and placed in the basement of the Science Hall a LaFrance Hand Chemical Engine, and a number of men were instructed in its use. At the opening of the present college year under the direction of Mr. Murch the Student Fire Department was organized from men living in Starr and Painter Halls. Last October the department rendered valuable service in saving the Halnon house near the Campus when it was threatened by a fire which destroyed the adjoining barn.

Outing Club

The Middlebury College Outing Club was organized Dec. 7, 1916. The purpose of the club is to promote interest in skating, snow-shoeing, skiing and hiking, especially during the long winter months when conditions are ideal for such sports. Alumni, professors, and students are eligible to membership. Several shacks have been placed at the disposal of the club for use on week-end trips and others will be built by the members at vantage points within a hiking distance of the college. The club was represented at the Dartmouth Winter Carnival by delegates who competed in the various events.

The Senior Council

It has been a long felt need by the students and faculty of Middlebury that some form of student government society composed of seniors elected by the men of the college should exist. At the last meeting of the Union in June, 1916 such a body of men was elected from the class of 1917 to serve for one year. One man from each fraternity and a non-fraternity man compose the council. The duty of this board is principally to act in the capacity of a mediatory board between the faculty and students, to take the place of the old "rules committee" with oversight of the general life of the men of the college. The council holds frequent meetings and the good work it has already accomplished can be seen by noticing the cement walk to the Chemistry Building and recalling how well our Freshman P-rade and the celebration after our football victory over U. V. M. were conducted.

The Tuesday Evening Club of former years, has been reorganized into the Dramatic Club, for the purpose of presenting short plays and sketches before the women's college in Pearson's Social Hall. A small admission is charged, to help swell the Silver Bay Fund, which is used to send girls to the conference each year. Two plays were presented before Christmas, with others following later.

This club was reorganized last spring, and meetings were held every two weeks, either in the various sorority rooms, or in private houses. The purpose of the organization is to bring before the attention of the girls, the modern methods of house-work and the new inventions in utensils and their use. Discussion of such topics as "The Consumers League," were taken up in the later meetings and this year the officers hope to get different lecturers here.

Jokes

The ones who think our jokes are poor
Would straightway change their views
Could they but compare the jokes we print
With those that we refuse.

C. B. W. The Monday following the football victory over Vermont. Swinburne says:
"And so I, this morning take exceeding pleasure and joy in praising one of our college organizations; which with tireless effort and a hardy determination has been striving toward a distant but worthy goal. The work of this organization will be remembered, I am sure, by all of us in the far-off years of the future, more than any other feature of our college life. The organization of which I speak is the college Choir —."

Dr. Harrington (tracing the rise of emotions).

"First, a man gets mad and his heart beats violently, then he goes into battle and his heart pounds more violently; and then love comes along and his heart beats faster than ever before."

(We'll have to take your word for the last part Dr.)

Professor:—"Why did you come to college, anyway? You are not studying."

Coleman '18:—"Well, Mother says it is to fit me for the Presidency; Uncle Bill, to sow my wild oats; Sis, to get a chum for her to marry; and Pa, to bankrupt the family."

First Freshman:—"What profession do you think Buffum will choose?"

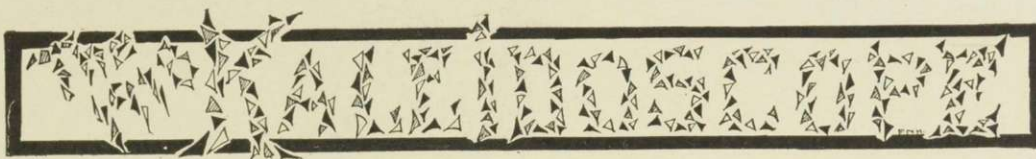

Second Freshman:—"Law! 'Dick' can talk louder and longer when he is on the wrong side of an argument than any body I ever heard."

"Dave" Reid enters "Skip" Stones:—"Um—ah—er—er—er! He! he—."

"Skip" (to his assistant):—"Bring that tray of engagement rings here."

Sophomore:—"I suppose you think that Christian will become President some day."

Junior:—"Maybe not President, but he will be in the race after the nomination, all right. He keeps the whole place in an uproar, uses indescribable language, and can go without sleep for a week."

Doctor:—"You don't dissipate, do you? Not a fast liver or anything of that sort?"

Watson '18 (hesitating):—"I sometimes chew a little gum."

10:30 a. m.

Soph:—"Going down street, McFee?"

McFee '20:—"No, I'm going over to Battell."

Scph:—"Don't you know that the men are not expected to call before 5 p. m?"

McFee '20:—"I'm not going fussing, I'm going to see Mrs. Battell."

Prof. Phillips (talking to co-ed at movies):—"Yes, I like to go with girls occasionally, so that I won't get 'Rusty'."

Preparing for Physics test. Reynolds '17:—"The meter is the distance between two scratches on a pole in Paris."

Question (in a Biology exam.):—"What is heredity?"

Answer:—"Blaming it on the monkey."

Prof. Harrington:—"As Mr. Greene was speaking I couldn't help thinking of my own experience in a Massachusetts State Reformatory. I mean as a visitor of course."

Eastman (to "Rocky" in KALEIDOSCOPE office):—"No, as a rule, I don't care for alcoholic beverages but I certainly do like Champagne."

Old Lady (talking to Roy Harris):—"Here, boy, I've been waiting some time to be waited on."

Roy:—"Yes, ma'am, what can I do for you?"

Old Lady:—"I want a stamp."

Roy:—"Yes, ma'am. Shall I lick it for you?"

Mead '18:—"Everytime Miss Crane looks into my face she laughs."

Webb '18:—"Well, it may not be exactly polite, but it shows she has a wonderful sense of humor."

"Pat" Williams (to a Co-ed):—"Don't you think I had better dye my mustache?"

Co-ed:—"Just let it alone, 'Pat,' and I think it will die itself."

 Look out! or you're a goner!
D is a mark

D is the dances
 Which make the life worth living.
L is the library
 Where we all have to bone;

 You take to beat the band,
Y is what is left of you
 When your degree you land.

(In Physical Ed.) Director:—"What one thing has helped you most in this course?"

Pupil:—"My brains."

Director:—"I'm not so sure about that."

Doc. Harrington (Eng. VII.) finds it necessary to complete the reading of a book by a certain date. He says,—“Well, class, please have Clarissa Harlowe all cleaned up by next Thursday.”

Professor:—"What is a vacuum?"

Boehm '17:—"I have it in my head, Professor, but I can't express it."

Caller:—"What a pretty boy! What is his name?"

Mother:—"Charles Andrews Danolds."

Caller:—"But he is such a little fellow. The name must have stunted him."

Mother:—"We gave it to him, hoping that it would have the effect of making him feel that he just had to grow up." (But it didn't!)

Prof. Sanford (proctoring an English III. Test):—"Miss Cann, will you please distribute yourself a little better?"

Prof. Sanford (showing the Parthenon on the screen):—"Now how is this building lighted?"

Voice (from the rear):—"Gas!"

Freshman (addressing Junior):—"Do you room up in that dormitory?"

Junior:—"Yes, I have a fine room in the tower."

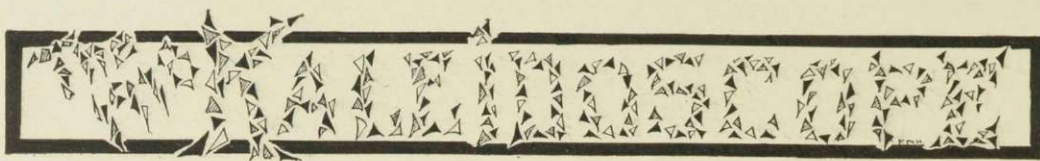

Freshman:—"I'll come up and see you some day — the view must be great up there."

"Lord," remarked Professor Davison, "The general function of your head seems to be to keep your necktie from slipping off."

Prof. Phillips (Spanish I.):—"You may read now, Mr. Bresnahan."

Mr. Bresnahan '17:—(Nodding in the negative).

Prof. Phillips:—"Please excuse me, Mr. Bresnahan, I forgot that your voice is out of commission."

Chas. Baker Wright (In English III.):—"I have a confession to make; I was switched off from my regular line of work last night, and consequently I have come before you unprepared (pause). Undoubtedly there are many of you present who can sympathize with me."

Crippen '18 (to bystander):—"Hobo" has at last decided on a profession that he thinks he will like."

Bystander:—"Good, what is it?"

Crippen '18:—"He wants to be a lineman for a wireless telegraph company."

Two Middlebury College students were enjoying a canoe trip on the Richelieu river, far from familiar names and faces (as they supposed). One afternoon they saw a boy mounted on a large horse and riding along the bank of the river. Close behind, following in the footsteps of the horse, but unobserved by the boy came a diminutive jackass. Imagine their surprise when, as the boy turned and saw the donkey, they heard him exclaim, "Why, hello Bosco!"

Mitchell '17 (Ped. 5):—"Doesn't drinking fire the imagination?"

Prof. Howard:—"I don't know. I never tried it."

"Frosh" Co-ed (at movies, overheard by another "Frosh"):—"Pinch away, I'm here to stay."

Somers '19 (to Reynolds after struggle with Physics problem):—"Now, 'Jack,' we've got $X = 0$."

Reynolds (exhausted):—"Gee, all that work for nothing."

St. Peter (to applicant):—"You say you were one of the editors of the 1918 KALEIDOSCOPE?"

Applicant:—"Yes, sir."

St. Peter:—"Step into the elevator please."

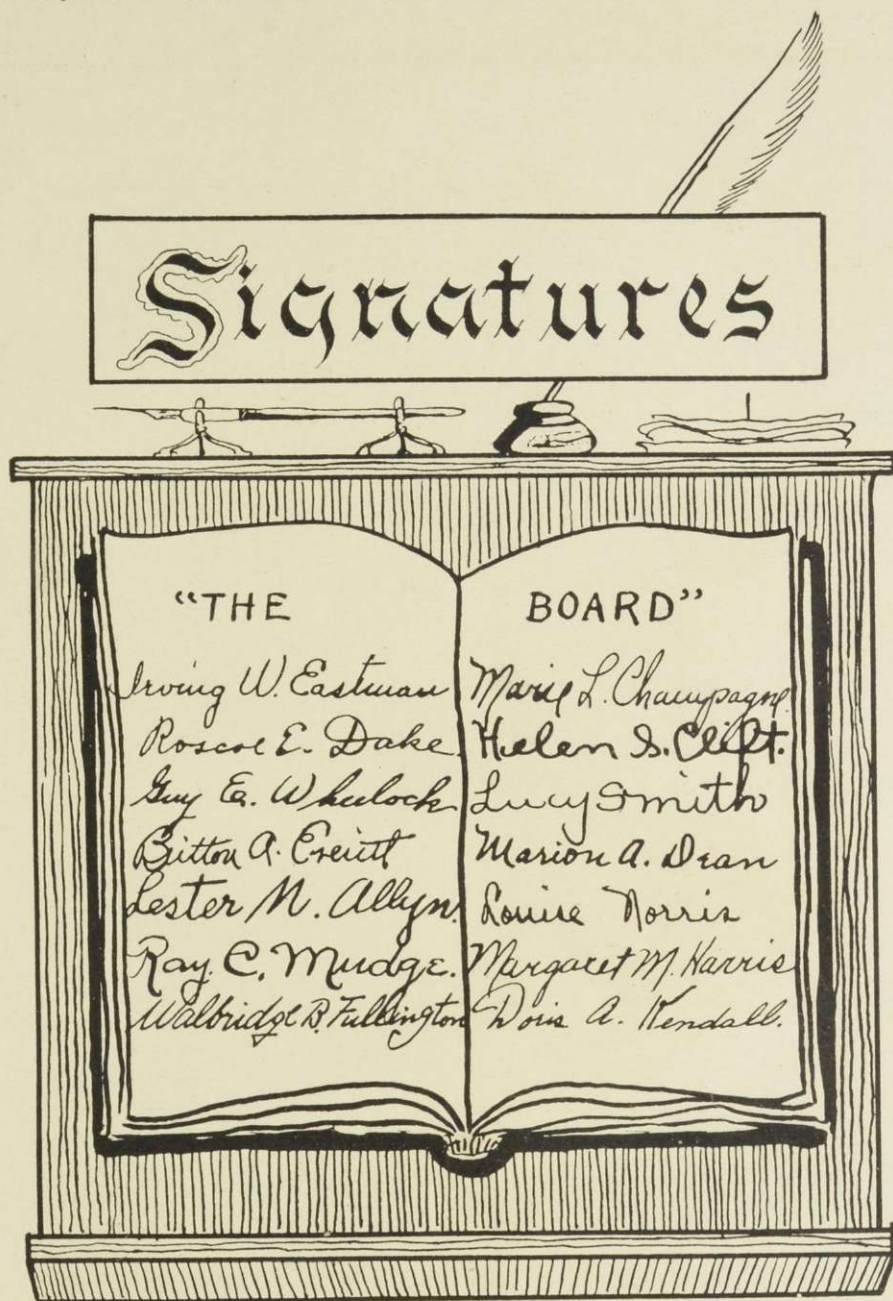

Applicant (stepping into the elevator):—"How long before it goes up?"

St. Peter:—"It doesn't go up; it goes down."

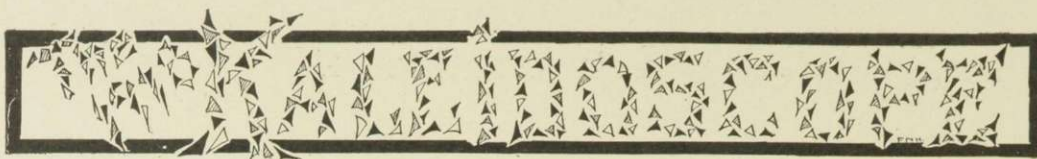

Everybody

If thru these pages thou hast searched in vain,
And now rejoice for finding not thy name —
Tho we've not roasted, thou'rt a fool to boast.
We could not, for thou wert not worth the roast.

The 1918 KALEIDOSCOPE Board wishes to take this opportunity to thank each and every one who has assisted in the publication of this book.

College Training and ...Success...

Of the 102,826,309 people in the United States only 17,546 have achieved sufficient prominence for mention in "Who's Who in America." Of the 15,794 of these who furnished data regarding their education, 11,034 (71.10%) have attended college, and 8,529 (54.96%) are graduates of universities and colleges.

The old classical course at Middlebury has given the college a reputation for over a century in the liberal studies that make men, and by the recent extension of the curriculum the student is enabled, through wise selection, to secure not only broad, cultural training, but also preparation for further professional studies, for business, or for teaching.

For information as to admission, expenses, etc., apply to the Assistant to the President, Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt.
